A ruling by the Granite City Electoral Board removing Robert Earl Gates from the April 3 city election ballot in the First Ward was upheld by Circuit Judge James O. Monroe following a hearing on an appeal of the ruling Monday afternoon.

Gates, who filed his nominating petitions as a First Ward Aldermanic candidate on Jan. 29, was ordered removed from the ballot by the Electoral Board in a hearing Feb. 23 on grounds that some of the signatures on Gates' petitions were obtained in the Third Ward instead of the First Ward.

Objections to Gates' petitions were not filed, however, until Feb. 15, 12 days after the Feb. 3 statutory deadline for filing objections or challenges to nominating petitions.

Gates appealed the Electoral Board ruling on these grounds, or in the board action, and the decision of the (Electoral) Board is affirmed.

The removal of Gates from the election ballot will leave invalid signatures of persons within the ward (Ward One), whereas 39 petitions were required.

"This requirement is mandatory and the board properly sustained the objection. Accordingly, the court finds neither procedural substantive error in proceedings before the board, or in the board action, and the decision of the (Electoral) Board is affirmed."

The removal of Gates from the election ballot will leave in-

A. O. Smith Promotes Bauman and O'Connor

Appointments of industrial relations and personnel directors have been announced by A. O. Smith Corp.

Charles A. Baumann, previously personnel manager at A. O. Smith's auto frame manufacturing plant in Granite City, has been appointed industrial relations director responsible for industrial relations activities at the corporation's headquarters in Milwaukee.

Replacing Baumann is Edward J. O'Connor Jr., who previously served as a labor relations supervisor at the corporation's Granite City plant.

Announcement of the appointments was made by David H. Stieber, vice-president and general manager of A. O. Smith's Automotive Division.

Baumann joined A. O. Smith in 1962 as a senior industrial relations representative at the company's Milwaukee headquarters and assumed duties as personnel manager at the Granite City plant in 1969.

In the latter capacity, he was responsible for labor relations, employment, safety and the employee benefit programs of A. O. Smith's 1,200 Granite City employees. He is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin with a degree in labor economics.

Before coming to A. O. Smith, Baumann served as a senior labor relations representative for the Heil Co., Milwaukee.

O'Connor joined A. O. Smith as a labor relations representative in 1970, after serving as a personnel supervisor for the Dow Chemical Co.

A native of St. Louis, O'Connor is a graduate of St. Louis University, where he majored in industrial psychology. He is an active member of the Industrial Relations Club of St. Louis and the East Side Industrial Relations Association.

A. O. Smith with its subsidiaries is a widely diversified manufacturer of auto and truck frames, electric motors, electrical controls, agricultural storage and handling systems, water heating equipment, elevators and other products.

ated into the resolution, and the matter of tax warrants will be dropped or diminished if the county can legally borrow its own money.

The special tax departments involved are the Tuberculosis Clinic, Veterans Assistance Commission, Mental Health Commission and Supervisor of Assessments.

The county is authorized to issue tax anticipation warrants of up to 75% of the tax levy for each department. Totals for each department which can be borrowed on future taxes include:

Tuberculosis Clinic, $338,431 in 11 warrants of $30,000 each; Veterans Assistance, $77,728 in seven warrants of $10,000 each; Mental Health Commission, $250,244 in 20 warrants of $12,000 each.

"The numbers and amounts of each warrant were based on the monthly needs in each department," according to county Auditor John L. Kravynak. "So that a minimum amount of warrants will be offered only as needed."

"The resolutions covering the four funds stipulate that interest should be sought by sealed bidding from various financial institutions in Madison County. The treasurer will be required to do this."

Kravynak commented that the working cash fund has $378,000 available for funding but the county revenue fund is in need of this.

From November 1970 to February 1971, I lost approximately $1,750 in wages because I refused to cross the picket line of the International Union of Operating Engineers, Local 148, who were picketing the Union Electric Co. in St. Louis. ## Honey Sale Saturday To Aid Dystrophy Fund

Guy Cooper, a member of the Granite City Jaycees, has been appointed chairman of "Honey Sunday for Muscular Dystrophy," scheduled to take place this weekend in the local community.

Cooper said today that more than 24 Jaycees and their wives will be participating in the honey-selling drive here as part of a statewide effort in which thousands of Jaycee members throughout Illinois will take part.

Jars of honey, priced at $1 each, will be sold by the young men's service club Saturday at the Jaycee's home in Bellemore Village and Nameki Village shopping centers.

Proceeds from the unusual sales event will be turned over to Muscular Dystrophy Association of America, Inc. (MDAA), where it will be used to support patient and community service programs and a world-wide research program.

"Because of modern medical developments, dollar needs are greater than ever before," Cooper explained. "The use of antibiotics has increased the life span of patients, and better diagnostic techniques allow us to identify new MS patients more quickly and easily. Consequently, the patient load is much heavier."

"On the research front," Cooper continued, "the pace is quickening. More has been learned about dystrophy since MDAA came into existence than in all previous recorded history. Many investigators believe they are on the verge of major breakthroughs."

Research projects sponsored by MDAA are conducted in 13 foreign countries on six continents as well as throughout the United States.

MDAA provides a wide range of vital services to its patients. It furnishes—at no cost—orthopedic devices, such as wheelchairs, braces and crutches; transportation to and from schools and medical appointments; and summer camps and other recreational activities.

The organization also sponsors a network of 112 clinics reaching across the U. S., where patients receive, free of charge, diagnostic and follow-up examinations, physical therapy and genetic and social service counseling.

The national voluntary health agency—MDAA—is headed by enterprised Jerry Lewis. Again this year, the group has received the "Stamp of Approval" of the National Health Council for meeting the high standards of performance established for any organization of its kind, Cooper said.

Emphasize Poison Prevention Next Week in State

Gov. Dan Walker has proclaimed March 18-24 as Poison Prevention Week in Illinois.

He pointed out that during 1972 there were 8,681 reported cases of accidental poisoning in Illinois and that almost 95% of the victims were children under the age of five.

"The natural inquisitiveness of children and their ability to obtain things they should not have is a continuous challenge," he said.

Walker urged health departments, physicians, dentists, nurses, pharmacists, industrialists, media and community organizations to initiate public information programs on the prevention of accidental poisoning.

"Proper storage, use and disposal of potentially hazardous substances and safety packaging are essential to eliminating this useless suffering and waste of life," the governor added.

Dr. Byron Francis, chief of the Division of Disease Control of the Illinois Department of Public Health, asked parents and others who take care of small children to observe Poison Prevention Week by carefully checking the home for possible sources of accidental poisoning.

Schuler Takes Advantage of Office, Mayor Rival Charges

Mayor Donald Partney of Granite City shortly before pastime today issued a statement reviewing background development leading up to his press conference this week at which he signed a misconduct charge, against his April 3 mayor election rival, Alderman Paul Schuler.

Mayor Partney stressed that "the statement of Mr. Schuler that this is a political charge is simply not true. The record shows that I called this matter to the attention of the state's attorney as early as 1969."

The state's attorney was quoted as having Schuler notified Sept. 23, 1969, of an apparent conflict of interest.

"I continued to press the state's attorney's office for some action in this case until 1970, when Mr. Schuler claimed he had dissolved the partnership," Partney said today.

"However, a check of records in 1972 disclosed that Mr. Schuler had not notified the Department of Registration as the law requires."

"We obtained copies of a Dan and Bradstreet information form stating he was a partner in Vaughn's Pharmacy. As a result of this new information I contacted the state's attorney's office Dec. 28, 1972, asking him to take action."

"In February 1973 the office advised that it would be necessary to sign a complaint for his office to take action. Only after repeated attempts covering a period from 1969 through 1973 failed did I sign a complaint myself."

The mayor continued, "Why was it necessary for the state's attorney's office to notify him he was in conflict? Surely a man qualified for the mayor's office would realize it without pressure from the state's attorney's office."

"While he denies that the signature of the August 1971 partnership form was his, can he offer any explanations as to who and why someone else would sign his name, and how that someone managed to duplicate his signature to the satisfaction of an handwriting expert?"

"Can he explain how Vaughn's happened to garner more of the township's business than 100 other combined? How it is not more than 25% of the total township drug business during the time he served as an alderman?"

"After considering the above facts and reviewing my efforts since 1969, I believe that the citizens of Granite City will realize that this is not a political act."

"It is an attempt to prohibit a city official from exploring an official position for personal gain."

Red Cross Director at Scott Describes Duties

Walter Zukowski, American Red Cross field director at Scott Air Force Base, Belleville, described his duties on the base as "practically the same as those performed by a local ARC chapter in a community" when he spoke Tuesday to directors of the Tri-City Red Cross Chapter.

Board members met at the Granite City Trust & Savings Bank, with David Fox, chapter chairman, presiding.

The Red Cross officer said service to military families and maintenance of a blood bank constitutes the bulk of his responsibility at Scott, as in the case of local ARC chapters. He said "I am at the other end of the wire (telegram) sent by your chapter relating to problems of a serviceman."

Zukowski noted that the Red Cross is not involved in the returning prisoners of war operation at Scott AFB. Formerly, when wounded or ailing servicemen were airlifted from Vietnam to Scott for transfer to various military hospitals, the men were greeted by Red Cross volunteers.

He said the former POWs at Scott are housed in a restricted area where no one but the military has access, other than POW's immediate family.

Progress in special multimedia courses and general First Aid training was detailed by Mrs. Maxine Dunphy, First Aid chairman, who said a film, entitled "Multimedia," costing $284, has been purchased by the local chapter.

The movie aids substantially in presenting the two-day course, taught primarily at industrial plants as required under the Occupational Health and Safety Act.

Fox discussed the "serious financial problems" of the chapter, resulting from a drastic cut in the 1973-74 budget by the Tri-City Area United Fund. The chairman said the chapter has no other source of income and previously was working close to the financial limit of its obligations. The recent reduction may result in the elimination of certain services and programs, he speculated.

Halls featured various phases of the proposed renovation work, which includes — a new roof, coping and insulation; repairs or install a new fire escape; installation of a new floor on the second level; re-upholster and repair all furniture; replace large entrance doors and repair interior doors.

Repair or replace all plumbing; install new carpeting; remodel and possibly enlarge kitchen area; update all wiring and replace light fixtures.

Halls said floor plans already have been prepared so the job can be put out for bids immediately. The proposed budget will cover everything that has been planned, he added.

Schermer suggested the initial solicitation of funds be concentrated in a 20-day period, starting this week, with all Masonic families to be contacted. His

State Air Pollution Charge Against Venice Power Plant

Complaints have been filed against two firms for allegedly violating the Illinois Environmental Protection Act. Named as defendants are the Union Electric Co. and Allied Chemical Co.

One complaint charges that Union Electric operates an electrical power station at Main Street and the McKinley Bridge in Venice which has "repeatedly discharged sulfur dioxide and other pollutants into the air."

The second complaint charges that Allied Chemical's facilities, Kingshighway and Pennsylvania Railroad Tracks, Fairmont City, has discharged sulfur dioxide, sulfur trioxide, acid mist, obnoxious odors and other contaminants into the atmosphere.

The Environmental Protection Agency, in the suit, is requesting that the Pollution Control Board enter orders directing the two firms to:

- 1) Cease and desist the violations in accordance with the compliance program established by the Board.
- 2) Pay a fine of up to $10,000 for each violation and up to $1,000 for each day such violation continued.
- 3) Such further relief which the Pollution Control Board deems necessary.

proposal was supported by Karandeff.

Huber stressed the project should be accomplished "in toto," as opposed to piecemeal. Robert Hockings, president of the Masonic Temple Board and a past master of Lodge 877, assured the committee that all work will meet pre-arranged standards prior to payment.

Work on the Temple should begin by July, Halls said.

Constructed in 1915 on a 100x125-foot tract, the Temple originally cost $15,000 to build, Lockhart said. The land was purchased and construction costs were defrayed through the sale of square-inch segments of the

7 Now in Race For GC School Board Offices

Two more candidates for election to two Granite City Board of Education posts open to election April 14 filed nominating petitions this week, bringing to seven the total number of candidates in the race this year.

In addition, six sets of petition forms have been obtained from school officials who said they assumed the petitions will be filed.

The wide-open race will be for the school boards post of Carl Macios, now board president, and Robert Crider, whose terms expire this year. Macios has filed as candidate for reelection, but Crider had not become a candidate as of today.

The petitions filed this week are those of Cecil Williams, 2429 Kilmer St., and Elvin Heckler, 2444 Cleveland Blvd. Other candidates who filed earlier in a bid for the two school board posts include Macios, Presley, 2441 St. Clair Ave.; Richard Fry, 2805 Fortune Drive; Norman Hall, 4830 Maryville Road, and James C. Hinson, 2816 Adams St.

Petition forms, not yet filed, have been obtained from school administration office by Charles Rudder, 2382 O'Hare St.; Phillip Hartman, 1729 Bremen Ave.; George Diak, 3023 Iowa St.; Jack Solberger, 3267 Westchester Drive; Jim Smith and Bill Thonalla, 2816 Adams St.

New Courthouse Phone Numbers

Offices in the Madison County Courthouse will have new telephone numbers beginning at 5:30 p.m. March 30, Jay Maurer, chairman of the County Building Committee, announced today.

Most people using the Courthouse in Edwardsville will probably not notice the change until Monday, April 2, when normal business resumes. Maurer said. The only county offices open over the weekend are the sheriff's office, county nursing and county detention home.

The change is due to a new Centrex telephone system which is being installed at the request of the County Board. The new numbers for every office are available on request from Miss Eulalia Hertz, county clerk and clerk of the County Board.

In the meantime, the offices in the Courthouse can be reached by dialing the common switchboard number, 692-4400.

Starting March 30, county offices are urged to dial the new numbers, some of which follow:

- Sheriff Maers's Office, 692-4433
- Detention Home, 692-4456
- County Clerk Hertz, 692-4482
- County Treasurer Musso, 692-4504
- State's Attorney Byron, 692-4550
- Chief Judge Schuman, 692-4576
- Circuit Clerk Portell, 692-4464
- Chairman of County Board Hagauer, 692-4455
- County Supervisor of Assessments Barton, 692-4570
- County Civil Defense, 692-4527

During the time between the installation and the issuance of a new telephone directory in November carrying all the new numbers, Illinois Bell operators will intercept all calls to the old numbers and give the new number, Maurer said.

The operator for the new system also will serve as an information receptionist at the courthouse.

down with them as individuals and equals and to bargain in good faith," Bruhn said, indicating that as long as this feeling is maintained, the custodians will continue to work without an injunction.

At last night's meeting, the union and the board reached several "tentative understandings," according to Bruhn and Fred Riddle, superintendent of the Madison School District.

Among the understandings is that a wage increase will not be added to the 1972-73 contract but that increases granted in the 1973-74 contract will be retroactive to July 1, 1972, the date which the present contract expired.

Another understanding reportedly reached last night is that the custodians will be treated equally with all school district employees on increases.

"If we grant the teachers an increase, we will grant the custodians an equal increase," Riddle explained.

"All of this is contingent upon available money. We've told all our personnel that if we have financing, we are thinking about increases for all employees," Riddle added.

"It must be understood that any increase at this time would mean deficit financing—even $1. We understand state aid is to be increased next year and if our enrollment adjustment does not drop too far, we hope we can give raises and still break even," the superintendent explained.

No agreement has been reached over the union demand that an election be held to see if the district's clerical workers and secretaries wish to have a union, as was their bargaining agent.

"We did table the item last night and there is no immediate plan for an election, but it could be brought up again," Bruhn said.

He credited Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison with arranging last night's meeting. Bruhn said the custodians approached school board members in the courtroom at yesterday's hearing and asked for a meeting.

"They were told we could not get everyone together before next week, the way I understand it," the attorney said.

"At that time, we contacted Mayor Sasyk and asked if he could help arrange the meeting. Later we were notified the board would meet with us last night," he said.

The custodians began picketing at the district's six schools Monday morning over what Bruhn described as "desperation because we were not getting anywhere in contract talks with the board."

Teachers at five of the schools refused to cross the picket lines and only Louis Baer Elementary School remained open. Six teachers held classes there Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday for about 100 of the 380 enrolled students.

Union requests when the strike started were for a wage increase from $4 to $4.40 per hour, fully paid hospital and medical insurance 15 holidays a year rather than 13, improvements in fringe benefits on vacations and leave, and a frozen issue of the right to bargain for the clerical workers and secretaries.

Since the strike began, the custodians have indicated they are willing to decrease the wage demand to 20-cents per hour rather than 40-cents.

Near-tornadic wind caused an estimated $300,000 damage and inflicted five minor injuries in Highland at 1:50 a.m. yesterday, damaging an estimated 45 homes, some severely.

Frank Kirk, director of the Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs, will address a quarterly dinner of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission at 6:30 p.m. March 22 at Rusty's, Edwardsville.

A luncheon will be held at noon March 21 at Sunter Hills Country Club to aid in coordinating industry-labor-business efforts in the 1973 U. S. savings bond drive in Madison and St. Clair Counties.

The Illinois House voted 115-42 Tuesday to take away the Illinois Pollution Control Board's power to regulate open burning of leaves, brush and trees.

The state this week started a campaign to enroll Illinois communities in the National Flood Insurance Program. A six-session series began today at Oak Brook and will include a May 16 session at Pere Marquette State Park, Grout.

The proposed major St. Louis metropolitan area major airport at Columbia-Waterloo in Illinois has been given a "pretty high rating" by the Federal Aviation Administration in an interim report, Cong. Melvin Price (D-East-St. Louis) said this week.

He said he expects that every member of the Illinois delegation to the U. S. House of Representatives will support the Illinois state for the new airport.

Maharishi Mahesh Yogi, former spiritual guru to the Beatles and other celebrities, received a standing ovation from the Illinois House of Representatives during a visit Tuesday in which he declared, "The word of government is a holy thing."

The Indian guru also met for 15 minutes with Gov. Daniel Walker in the presence of reporters and advised him that by ending problems in society, Walker would be able to draw up a state budget "that will bring smiles."

Republican House leaders in Springfield Tuesday rejected Gov. Daniel Walker's proposal for a $300 state income tax exemption but agreed tax relief is needed.

The GOP leaders indicated they will introduce a bill calling instead for a 50% reduction in state sales tax on food and medicine which, they said, would be of more benefit to lower income families which spend a higher percentage of their incomes on the necessities.

Teachers at five of the schools refused to cross the picket lines and only Louis Baer Elementary School remained open. Six teachers held classes there Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday for about 100 of the 380 enrolled students.

Illinois Day July 8 at Exploration Festival

Plans for Illinois Day celebrations under the Gateway Arch in commemoration of the centennial of exploration of the Mississippi River are beginning to take shape.

A nine-day St. Louis Riverfront Tricentennial Celebration, which begins the Fourth of July, is to be sponsored by the National Tricentennial Commission in observance of the exploration of the Mississippi in 1673 by Joliet and Marquette.

The opening day will feature the arrival of the re-enactment voyage. Seven men, authentically dressed, will perform at the festival.

The men, traveling in two canoes, will start their four-month voyage May 17 at St. Ignace, Mich. They will travel the Mississippi and Illinois rivers, ending their trip in Green Day, Wis., Sept. 19.

"Illinois Day at the Arch will be Sunday, July 8, Robert Sullivan said at his office at 222 S. College St., Springfield, Ill., he reported this week.

Sullivan said the festival offers a unique opportunity for national attention on Illinois and the Midwest. The activities also will give the states involved a head start on the U.S. Bicentennial in 1976, he commented.

"I urge all Illinois residents to take advantage of this nine-day festival, especially Illinois Day," Sullivan said.

"This will give residents a chance to see crafts and performers from across the state and to participate in 300 years of history."

Cougar Track, Field Team Is Experienced

Coach Jack Whitted of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville track and field team has never had a losing season since he took over the direction of the sport four years ago. In fact, he initiated the sport at the 2,600-acre campus. In the inaugural 1970 campaign, his SIUE thincats racked up 5-5 record. In '71 his charges zoomed to a 7-2 mark, and then last year the Cougars were 5-2.

Now, with the chances good that he will be able to use the newly built track adjoining the Cougar soccer field on the campus, he's hoping to continue his winning ways.

The Cougar field and track performers will open their current season March 31 on the road against the Western Illinois University Leathernecks at Macomb. It will be the first of 11 meets and relays the Cougars will take part in this season, not including the NCAA college division finals to be held at Wahash College in Crawfordville, Ind.

On the basis of the material returning it would appear that Whitted's hopes for another winning season will be fulfilled. He has, for example, three SIUE Most Valuable track and field performers on the current squad: 1973's John Bohnenstiehl, Granite City; 1971's George Tyus, Madison, and 1972's Mike Allen, Granite City. Backing this trio of veterans are 10 other experienced lettermen: Ted Greenfield, Joe Michaels and John Schuster, Highland; Bruce Van Metre and Ken Elliff, Granite City; Jon Schmitz, Belleville West; Tom Vogt, Columbia; Phil Daniels, Venice, Assumption High; James Thomas, Wood River; and Kevin Dooley, Alton.

James Thomas of Wood River will help Mike Allen make the Cougars even tougher in the hurdles. In the javelin, it will be Tom Vogt, Columbia, and Bohnenstiehl and Greenfield. The shot putt will be handled by Belleville West's Matt Raiser and Gillespie's Robert Orlowski.

Other outstanding prospects are two athletes from other sports: Steve Cacciatore, a fleet forward on the Cougars' national college division soccer (NCAA) championship team and top-flight vaulter, and Tom Howard, a high scoring member of the 16-3 junior varsity basketball team. Howard, a high jumper, is from Cahokia, and Cacciatore is from St. Louis.

Others on the squad whom Whitted feels could help the Cougars are Granite City's Al Thomas Bull, Doug Horton, Joe

Thomas and Schuster will be joined by Edwardsville's Jack Klobnak. In the discus, Greenfield will be pushed by his fellow Highland native, Joe Michaels.

16 Pro-Stock Cars Featured In Sunday's Drag Races

At least 16 pro-stock drag racing machines will compete Sunday at St. Louis International Raceway south of Madison.

Among the cars entered is the "Suspect-Vat Help" of Al Mitchell of Granite City. Others are David Atkins' "Tough Rabbit Vega" of Chicago, the Gower & Miller "Vegas-bond Vega" of Chicago, Chris Young's "All-American Camaro" of Minneapolis, Minn., Tommy Johnson's Vega from Fort Madison, Iowa, and the pro-stock of Jim Christopher, St. Peters, Mo.

The event will mark the fourth weekly race this season. Last week eight funny cars were featured and an upcoming program will feature 16 funny cars.

Joe Arrigo of Chicago was the elimination winner last Sunday, having won three consecutive quarter-mile runs, each in less than nine seconds. Arrigo defeated the Chevrolet-powered Vega of Joe Amato with a run of 8.85 seconds down the quarter-mile to meet the St. Louis-based Mustang of Guthrie and Burton, the 1972 circuit point champion, in the semi-final event. The Guthrie car had advanced to the semi-finals by way of an easy first-round win over Tom Kenny's "Red Baron" Camaro when Kenny's engine stalled at the starting lights.

In that event, Arrigo topped Guthrie's 12.53 seconds with an 8.95 second run of his own. Guthrie, a favorite to win, developed mechanical troubles at the start, resulting in his defeat.

In the final, the showdown was between Arrigo and the Dodge Charger of Gaglione and Emerson. Gaglione had defeated Vic Tiffin's Mustang in the semi-final event.

Gaglione, who had been running faster elapsed time than Arrigo all day, could only muster an 8.88 at 164 miles-per-hour in the semi-finals, giving the win to Arrigo.

Arrigo said after defeating Gaglione in the semi-finals, "He's one of the best. If he hadn't lost a clutch, he probably would have been in the finals against Gaglione instead of me."

The event marked the 1973 premiere of the "International Funny Car Circuit of Champions."

Dick Stoltz of Chicago, driving a rear-engine hemi-powered "Domino" Duster, traveled down the 1,320 feet of asphalt in 11.31 seconds in losing to Vic Tiffin's 10.81 during the first round of eliminations. Stoltz had the honor of being the first rear-engine funny car to compete in the St. Louis area.

The irony of it all was that Stoltz was acting as an alternate to Duane Muelling's Pontiac Firebird. If it hadn't been for Mother Nature, the rear-engine "Duster" would not have been tested.

Muelling's car was sitting in the staging area prior to the time trials and a strong gust of wind caught the raised body, ripping it from its mountings. The force, and eventual landing, literally destroyed it.

Gates will open at 9 a.m. Sunday with time-trials at 10 a.m. The regular program, including the pro-stock eliminations, will begin at 2 p.m. The track is located at the intersection of Route 203 and Interstate 70.

Elite Red Devils On to Champaign for State Finals, Hold Off Marshall 71-66

By WALTER STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

Everyone is happy in Venice! A holiday mood filled the city after its high school basketball Red Devils advanced to the Class A State Tournament at Champaign this weekend by defeating Marshall 71-66 Tuesday night in the Charleston Super-sectional.

Coach Bill Ohlendorf's Devils, now a member of the Class A "Elite Eight," will play Bloomington Central Catholic in a quarter-final game at 8:30 p.m. Friday at the University of Illinois.

The Red Devils will take a 29-1 record into the final campaign, the only loss being a one-point loss to Sumner of St. Louis in the last game of the regular season. The loss by Marshall's Tigers was their third in 29 games of the season.

The VHS team was simply too hot for the Lions early in the game as the Devils led 20-9 at the end of the first quarter and 42-23 at the half. The Lions closed the gap during the second quarter, but the Devils led 56-31 at the end of the third quarter.

In the first half Venice had everything its way. From the floor the Devils hit 56% on 13 buckets in 22 attempts, and from the charity line they shot a perfect six-for-six.

The Lions only made eight from the floor in 23 attempts for 34% during the first half while sinking seven of nine free throws.

The first half saw the Devils dominate the boards 16-12 as Ron Henry and Cornelius Wiley each snagged five.

Marshall had 11 turnovers to Venice's five in the first two quarters.

Venice cooled the third quarter, scoring only 10 points as the Lions clawed their way back into the game racking up 22 points.

Dan Severs led the attack for the Venice cagers with 22 points. Severs hit nine from the floor in 17 attempts and four-for-four from the free-throw line. He snagged one rebound, made seven assists, committed two personal fouls and no turnovers.

Henry scored 19 points for Venice, hitting nine for 14 from the floor, one-for-one from the charity stripe, and had nine rebounds, one assist, and three personal fouls with one turnover.

Devil Ray Mosby racked up 13 points, four-for-nine from the floor and five-for-seven free throws, with six rebounds, five assists and two personal fouls and two turnovers.

Tony Sitten also scored in the double figures for the champs with 11, making four-of-seven attempted field goals and three-of-five free throws, with two assists, five personal fouls, committing the fifth foul with one second left in the game, and two turnovers.

Wiley scored six for Venice, hitting three in eight attempts on the floor and snagged six rebounds, with three personal fouls and one turnover.

Venice junior J. B. Harmon saw a couple of minutes of super-sectional action in the first half, snagging one rebound and committing two turnovers.

Final statistics show that Venice hit 29 in 56 attempts for 51% from the floor and 13 out of 17 for the 76% of their charity tosses.

Marshall shot 54% from the floor, hitting 27 in 50 attempts, and 75% in free throws with 12 out of 16 tries.

"With the exception of that third quarter we played exceptionally well," Ohlendorf said proudly. "When we piled up a 21 point lead we got a little too sure of ourselves and Marshall did not lose their poise, shot well and fought hard."

"We went to Charleston ready to play and blasted them out in the first quarter. One thing that hurt Marshall was that they had not scouted us."

Bloomington Catholic has some real height with two men at 6-7, plus players who are 6-4, 6-2 and 6-1. We have scouted them and they seem good, but if we can contend with them on the boards we will beat them."

Bumper Crop of Softball Teams Will Pay 1973 Dues Next Week

Black Knights Tag Days Starts Friday

The Black Knights Drum and Bugle Corps, a group of 120 boys and girls from the Madison-St. Clair counties area, will conduct "Tag Days" tomorrow and Saturday in the Quad-Cities. It was announced today.

Fifteen corps musicians are from Granite City.

Proceeds collected through the tag days project will be used to purchase uniforms for corps members.

Sponsoring the activity are members of the Black Knights Boosters, an organization of parents and friends of the corps, whose purpose it is to promote a spirit of cordiality, fraternity and to help provide financial support.

The drum and bugle corps has gained wide recognition for its musical ability and precision marching with appearances in parades and at festivals, homecomings and sports events. Members have exhibited their skills and competed in band contests for the past 25 years.

In a proclamation signed this week by Mayor Donald Partney, declaring Friday and Saturday as "Black Knights Tag Days," the Granite City official stated: "The young men and women of

Mark Twain's Adam and Eve Here Sunday

"The Diary of Adam and Eve" will be performed by the nationally known Repertory Theatre of America's Alpha Omega Players for one night only at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

The performance is open to the public. Tickets will be sold at the door priced at $2 for adults and $1 for children through 18 years.

The play traces the lives of the first man and the first woman through the happy days in Eden, the sadness in leaving, and the new life they begin outside the "Garden." Like any other couple, Adam and Eve experience the joys and pains of life and the sudden loneliness of death, according to Drexel H. Riley, the director.

Adapted from a short story by Mark Twain, the entire family will enjoy the retelling of this famous story, Riley said. Lyrics and music are by the composers of "Fiddler on the Roof," Jerry Bock and Sheldon Harnick.

Starring in the drama will be Bob Smith, Mary Durall, Stephen Reynolds and Susan Coleman.

America's beloved humorist and storyteller, Mark Twain, writes compassionately and with great understanding of the sensitivity and gentleness of Eve and of the strength and often hidden sensitivity of Adam, the director noted. Written in memory of his wife, the play is a poignant and humorous and provides a thoroughly entertaining evening, he added.

Kristy L. Henson Wed In Afternoon Ceremony

Miss Kristy Linnett Henson of Loveland, Colo., and Jack Williams Conley of Drake, Colo., were united in marriage on March 3 at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at Hope Lutheran Church, Washburn and Garfield avenues.

The Rev. J. Louis Oetting officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Otis D. Henson, 2545 O'Hare Ave. The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Conley, reside in Drake, Colo.

Given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Henson chose a bridal gown of ivory peau de soie fashioned with an Empire bodice of chantilly lace motif. V-neck lace masked with velvet ribbon edged the scoop neckline, encircled the waist, trimmed the cuffs of the full lace sleeves and bordered the hemline. A full sweep detachable train fell from the back waist.

Her veil of bridal illusion was secured with a lace and pearl headpiece and she carried a bouquet of white roses and pink carnations interspersed with baby breath and festooned with white ribbon streamers.

Attending the bride were Miss Melinda Henson, her sister, maid of honor, and Mrs. John Williams, matron of honor, from St. Louis, Mo.

They were attired in identical gowns of ivory chiffon over tulle with an Empire bodice and long sleeves. Rosette lace decorated the bodice, lined the stand up collar and defined the waistline. Matching headpieces of pink flowers on pink velvet ribbon were worn and each held a bouquet of pink and purple carnations, red rose buds with baby breath and pink velvet ribbon streamers.

The groom chose as his best man, Robert Bristol of Teropolis, Mo. John Williams of St. Louis was groomsman. Jerry Hesse and Tom Hesse of Mattoon, served as ushers. Miss Toni Hesse of Mattoon attended the guest register and Norman Frech served as acolyte.

Mrs. Henson chose for her daughter's wedding a floor-length gown of aqua blue double-knit with full sheer sleeves. Pearls decorated the bodice and her corsage was of pink rose buds and pink carnations.

Mrs. Conley wore a floor-length gown of green chiffon over tulle with full sheer sleeves. Her flowers were yellow rose buds and carnations. "Follow Me," "The Wedding Song" and "Day By Day" were sung by Mrs. Alice Land and Keith Curtis, accompanied by Albert Froelich at the organ.

A reception was held at the American Legion Hall in Granite City, following the ceremony. The rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents at Charlie's Restaurant.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were from Colorado, Washington, Oregon, Kansas, Illinois and Missouri.

The former Miss Henson is a graduate of Granite City High School and Jewish Hospital School of Nursing in St. Louis. She presently is employed in the intensive care unit of the Longmont, Colo., hospital.

Mr. Conley graduated from Colorado schools and is employed at Great Western & Eastern Sugar Refinery of Loveland, Colo., where the couple will reside.

Water Supply Seminar For Region March 22

In a continuing effort to safeguard drinking water throughout the state, the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency is conducting three training sessions in March for public water supply operators.

The day-long seminars, two already held in Galesburg and Harvey and one scheduled for here March 22, focus on water-day problems encountered by public water supply operators, according to Paul Bridges of the EPA's Division of Public Water Supplies.

The March 22 session is set for the Sunset Hill Holiday Inn. It is cosponsored by the Southwest Central Water Supply Operators' Association.

The local seminar will focus on water well construction and drilling, on well hydrology and on well pumps and maintenance.

"Nearly 1,150 persons around the state have taken advantage of the current series of training seminars," Bridges said. The series began last July and will comprise 28 sessions, ending next August.

"Well-managed public water supplies are an important part of every community in Illinois," Bridges added.

"Through training sessions such as these, we are able to help assure proper and efficient treatment of water supplies, and thus safer water for everyone."

Additional information concerning the training session is available from Bridges at 2200 Churchill Road, Springfield, Ill. 62706; his telephone is 217-786-6045.

Lily and MS Drives Set This Weekend

The Easter Seal Society of Southwestern Illinois will conduct Lily Days in both Madison and Granite City this weekend.

Afternoon and Saturday at area shopping centers, it was announced today by Mrs. M. Rigney, co-ordinator of the project.

Mrs. Rigney will direct the activities of the Easter Seal Youth Council of Granite City. Miss Andrea Tharp, of the Future Homemakers' Club at Granite City High School, will assist with her club students, and Robert Moske, a teacher at Coledge Junior High School and a board member of the Easter Seal Society also will participate in the drive for funds with students from the school.

Another fund raising campaign will take place Saturday, Sunday and Monday when the Multiple Sclerosis campaign will be conducted in a house-to-house drive.

March has been proclaimed as Multiple Sclerosis month. Mrs. Dorothy Trower is serving as Quad-City chairman.

Throughout this month, Mrs. Trower has attended meetings in the area to show films relating to the story of the crippling disease and the fight against it that is being made through research.

1972 Steel Trade Deficit Highest in History

Washington—During 1972, the United States recorded its largest steel trade deficit in history, despite the fact that import tonnage declined slightly from the previous year's record high.

Utilizing latest government data, American Iron and Steel Institute reported a trade deficit in steel mill products for the year of $2.2 billion, or $130 million more than the previous record set in 1971.

From a tonnage standpoint, steel mill product imports dropped 3.4%. They totaled 17,681,000 tons in 1972, compared with the previous year's record 18,304,000 tons.

However, the average declared value of imported steel rose from $144.02 per ton in 1971 to $158.99 per ton in 1972—an increase of $13.98 per ton—more than offsetting the slight drop in tonnage.

The result: a 6% increase last year over 1971 in the total value of steel imported.

Despite a modest decline, the quantity of steel imported during 1972 was the third highest in history.

Aside from the 1971 level, only the 1968 total of 17,960,000 tons of steel imports was higher.

Both were years in which labor negotiations took place, prompting consumers to stockpile large quantities of steel against the possibility of industry-wide strikes that did not occur.

For 1972 as a whole, imports accounted for 16.6% of the nation's apparent steel supply. However, during the second half of the year, this share jumped to 18.4%.

Together, the European Economic Community and the United Kingdom supplied 7,779,000 tons of last year's steel imports. This was 5.6% less than the 8,513,000 tons they shipped into the U. S. during 1971.

Japan also trimmed its steel exports to the United States. They were 6,440,000 tons in 1972, down 6.8% from the previous year's 6,808,000 tons.

However, imports from all other countries rose 20.1% in 1972—to 3,462,000 tons. The preceding year they totaled 2,882,000 tons.

Imports from many smaller countries skyrocketed.

From Korea, for example, they totaled 465,000 tons last year—up 249.6% from their 133,000 ton total in 1971.

These from Brazil climbed 219.5% in 1972, while steel shipments from Taiwan were 150.3% above their previous year's level.

Sweden and Austria, major specialty steel producers, also raised their steel exports to the United States—Austria by 139.1% and Sweden by 63.2%.

Imports from Mexico totaled 379,000 tons by the end of 1972, a gain of 8.5%.

Foreign producers shipped 149,000 tons of stainless steel to this country last year, down 23.3% from 1971's 192,000-ton total.

The main reason for the decline was a 47.8% drop in stainless shipments from Japan. However, mills in the EEC and the U.K. sent 10.3% more stainless steel to the U. S. during 1972 than in the previous year, while stainless shipments from all the other countries were up 21%.

Imports in another major specialty steel category—tool steel—rose nearly 18% in 1972.

Swedish mills accounted for 61.6% of last year's imported tool steel, recording a 64% gain in total shipments over 1971.

Tool steel imports from Japan were up 12% while those from Austria increased 4.5%.

Other alloy steel imports rose 11.2% to 433,000 tons in 1972, an increase of 7.6% over the total for the previous year. Japan's alloy shipments were down 6% from 1971. However, alloy imports from the ECC-U.K. rose 33% in 1972.

The Great Lakes-Canadian Border region continued to be the main area of entry for steel imports.

More than one-third of all foreign steel arriving last year—6,104,000 tons—came through this area.

But the region experiencing the sharpest steel import growth was the Pacific Coast, where such shipments rose 23.1% in 1972.

December imports totaled 1,609,000 tons.

Shipments of steel mill products by domestic mills rebounded to their highest total in three years during 1972.

U. S. mills shipped 91,805,000 net tons of steel during the year. This was an increase of 4,767,000 tons over 1971's total of 87,038,000 tons.

In 1969, the industry shipped 93,877,000 tons.

Steel service centers were the year's largest single steel market, and also scored the highest rise in purchases from domestic producers.

The auto industry was in second place, both in total purchases, and the amount these purchases increased over 1971.

Industries to which steel sales increased at least 10% during 1972 included: agricultural equipment, industrial machinery, aerospace and oil and gas drilling.

December steel shipments were 8,127,000 tons—the second highest total of the year.

Employees in the domestic steel industry were paid nearly $8 billion in wages and salaries last year.

These payments reached $5,449,300,000 in 1972. This was two-thirds of a billion dollars more than the $5,182,942,000 paid out in wages and salaries the previous year.

At the same time, industry wage employment costs climbed to an average of $7.68 per hour for all of 1972—a jump of 82 cents an hour over their 1971 average.

However, steel industry pay-rolls averaged only 478.368 persons during 1972, a drop of 8,901 persons from the previous year's average of 487,269 persons, and the lowest yearly employment figure since 1939.

During December, industry employment reached its second highest monthly total of the year. It totaled 490,991 persons, an increase of 4,533 from November, and just under the 1972 high of 491,651 individuals recorded in July.

A June 9th wedding is being planned by the betrothed couple.

St. John Lutheran Jubilee Series

The third in a series of Golden Anniversary Jubilee services at St. John Lutheran Church, St. Clair and Dale avenues, will be "Choral Sunday," set for Sunday at 10:30 a.m.

Members of the Senior Church Choir will open the worship service with a robust procession, while singing the hymn

"Stand Up, Stand Up, Stand Up for Jesus." Delivering the message will be the pastor, the Rev. Samuel Boda.

The opening hymn will be "Rise, Arise" by Peter Norman. The choir will alternate with the congregation in singing. Following the scripture readings, the choir, singing from the church balcony, will sound the anniversary theme with a rendition of "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God" by Martin Luther, harmonized by Johann S. Bach.

The choral portion of the service will continue with "Glory to God in the Highest" by Pergolesi. During a celebration of Holy Communion, Mrs. Josephine Diek and Mrs. Diane Gebhardt will sing "He Shall Feed His Flock" from Handel's Messiah. Mrs. Phyllis (Boda) Jarabek will be at the organ.

Assisting the pastor at the altar and during Holy Communion will be seminarian Godfrey (Bo) Jarabek.

The final Anniversary service will take place March 25 with a festive thanksgiving service and banquet.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD D. MAGARY, whose wedding took place at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church. The bride is the former Miss Debra Ann Friedel, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Friedel, 2401 Morrison Road.

Debra Ann Friedel and Richard Magary Are Wed

St. Elizabeth Catholic Church was the scene of the morning wedding on March 3 of Miss Debra Ann Friedel, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Friedel, 2401 Morrison Road, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Magary, 2404 Kilarney Drive.

Mrs. Wilbert Brown sang "On This Day, O' Beautiful Mother," "Father Eternal, We Pray For Your Blessing," and "Father While This Bread is Blessed," accompanied by Mrs. Donald MacDonald at the organ.

The Rev. John M. Savore performed the 10 o'clock ceremony before an altar adorned with urns of white gladioli and pom poms.

Maid of honor, Miss Phyllis Von Nida, and bridesmaids, Misses Wanda Frost, Inga Weller and Ruth Plafcan, wore dresses in rainbow colors designed in identical style.

The gowns were made with a fitted bodice featuring 10 g sleeves with wide cuffs and a natural waistline accented with satin ribbon and bow in the back. Their long skirts were slightly gathered.

The honor attendant wore a powder blue crepe frock while the bridesmaids chose pink, mint green and yellow. Each carried a colonial bouquet of pom poms in blue, pink, yellow, green and baby breath.

Lee Ann Kinney, the little flower girl, was dressed in a mint green frock and carried a basket of multicolored flowers. Stephen Kinney served as the ringbearer.

For her wedding, the bride selected a floor-length bouffant gown of white Chantille high-lighted with a lace bodice, a scalloped square neckline and long tapered lace sleeves. Tiers of lace created the full skirt that flowed gently from the natural waistline into a chapel length train.

She wore a camolot hat of Chantille to secure her fingertip veil and she held a colonial cascade of white carnations, pom poms, baby breath and pink Sweetheart roses.

The groom chose Michael Friedel, a brother of the bride, as his best man. James Klug, the bride's cousin, Jeff Wittig, Michael Copeland, a brother of the groom, and Clark and Mark Kranz, the groom's cousins, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Guests were received by the newly married couple at an evening reception held at St. Bernard's Hall in Wood River.

Both young people are graduates of Granite City High School. Mr. Magary is employed at McDonald's Restaurant as assistant manager. They will reside in Granite City.

Mrs. Irvin Feted by Co-Workers

A surprise retirement dinner for Mrs. Alma Irvin, director of cafeterias for the Granite City School District, was given at Charlie's Restaurant by 113 cafeteria ladies, six maîtres and two cafeteria secretaries, all of whom are co-workers of the honoree.

There were 81 guests attending the affair. Entertainment was provided by Mrs. Marge Hall and Mrs. Ruby Hoffman, former employees of Granite City School District 9.

A "This Is Your Life" theme was used for the program. Each guest participated by relating a short version of an incident that occurred during the 26 years Mrs. Irvin has been associated with the cafeteria department.

Group singing followed, with impromptu skits furnished by the guests.

Mrs. Irvin received many gifts and a special cake, decorated in red and topped with a small red rocking chair, was prepared by Mrs. Virginia Owens.

The red and white color scheme was carried out in the table appointments, with each favor a miniature replica of the red rocking chair. An arrangement of red and white carnations centered the main table, flanked with red candles in white milk glass holders.

Mrs. Irvin started working with the Granite City School District in September 1947. She will retire on June 29 of this year.

LITURGICAL DANCE is performed by SUE students, Cathy Ellis and Michael Moore, during special services at the Church Women United World Day of Prayer program at the SUE campus. The dance sequence was entitled "A-Tone."

County Nursing Shelter Care Units Separated

Administration of the Madison County Nursing Home and the Shelter Care Home was separated by the Madison County Board which adopted a resolution unanimously during its meeting Wednesday morning in the courthouse in Edwardsville.

The action was recommended by the health institutions committee of the board which noted that minimum state standards differ for the two homes and separation of the two would provide a savings, ease budget problems and applications for state funds for the nursing home and exercise better personnel control.

Jobs at each home are to be posted with employees of both having an option to choose the location of employment according to seniority and qualifications.

In other business the board: Incorporated the division of maps and plats into the office of the supervisor assessments at a savings of $7,000 to $9,000 a year.

The assessment supervisor will have charge of the new department. Bruce Fleggenbaum, who has retired as head of maps and plats, will be replaced by an office supervisor for that division.

Authorized an application to the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission for a matching grant not to exceed $44,000 to improve and upgrade the capability of the office of state's attorney by providing two full-time police legal advisor positions. The overall county share is not to exceed $12,000.

Received a letter from U. S. Sen. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois backing a recommendation by Board Chairman Nelson Hagman and other county Democrats that Circuit Court Judge Harold R. Clark be appointed to the federal bench to succeed Federal District Judge Omer Poos.

Received a letter from U. S. Rep. Paul Finley stating that he would support continuation of the federal Emergency Employment Act as requested by the County Board.

Approved purchases of uniforms for the nursing home from Continental Textile Co. of St. Louis on a low bid of $1,828 and a radio for the Civil Defense Department from Motorola Communications Inc. on a sole bid of $1,683.

Authorized the central services committee to advertise for bids for summer uniforms for sheriff's deputies and for 35 two-way mobile radio units for the sheriff's department.

Approved February claims and payroll totaling $671,224.

County Ratifies New Employee Agreement

The Madison County Board ratified a working agreement with sheriff's employees, approved salary increases and cost of living adjustments for other employees and equalized vacation and sick leave benefits for all county employees during a meeting Wednesday morning at the courthouse in Edwardsville.

The agreement with Operating Engineers Local 520 representing Sheriff's Department employees does not provide increased overall monetary benefits, according to the finance committee, but adjusts employee benefits.

But after Louis Whitsell of Nameoki Township asked how the county could amend the budget during the year, J. J. Gramlich, finance committee chairman, said $16,000 from the next receipt of federal revenue sharing funds would be used to cover the costs and would remain in the revenue sharing budget. Additional federal funds should arrive in April, he said.

Mrs. Sibyl H. Belliss of East Alton objected that "buying back sick leave is not in the agreement" with sheriff's employees. The term "buying back" apparently included adjustments in vacations as well as sick leave benefits.

Six board members, including Whitsell, voted against the agreement. Gramlich reported that the personnel committee had completed a job classification study and pay increases and benefits not to exceed the 5.5% federal wage ceiling were granted to 321 employees.

A transfer of sufficient funds to provide for the cost for 4½ months was approved. Equalization of benefits for all employees includes two weeks vacation for one to five years of service, three weeks for five to 10 and four weeks for 10 years and more.

Provisions for non-service-connected sick leave are 1½ days for each month of employment with accumulation of leave provided without limit.

Mrs. Belliss charged that the policy would increase the budget considerably in the replacement of personnel on vacation or leave, especially at the county nursing home where she said the budget is tight now.

Board Chairman Nelson Hagauer commented that all office holders and department heads should be able to arrange vacations so that additional personnel need not be necessary, though it may be necessary for some to take their vacations during the winter months.

Six members of the board voted against the policy, with those in this area voting in favor of the proposal.

The board was notified by the Illinois Department of Labor that the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees Local 790 had been elected as bargaining agent for courthouse employees, receiving a favorable vote of 188 employees compared to 35 who voted for no union representation.

A letter from Harold Benedict, staff representative of Local 790, asked to meet with the county to negotiate a working agreement and requested a dues checkoff system and a union shop in addition to other provisions for the rest of the fiscal year.

Registration of Town Candidate Questioned

Whether Arthur Boyle, 2549 Morrison Ave., will be able to vote in the April 3 Chouteau Township election, in which Boyle is a candidate for town clerk, will depend upon an opinion by State's Attorney Nicholas Byron as to the legal status of Boyle's voter registration.

The question, which arose after Boyle sent a change of address notice to the county clerk's office because he planned to move to the new address, was referred to the state's attorney by County Clerk Eulalia Hotz.

Boyle said he was registered from the Morrison Avenue address, but planned to move to another residence at Box 982, Rural Route Two, in Chouteau Township prior to the April 3 election. He sent a change of address notice for the intended residence prior to the March 5 voter registration deadline.

Since he said circumstances have made the new residence unavailable, posing the question as to which address constitutes a legal voter registration.

State Will Emphasize Development of Parks

Copley News Service

Springfield — Development of existing holdings, rather than acquisition of new lands, has been announced as one of the top priorities of the Department of Conservation. But where the undeveloped holdings are, and how extensive they are, seems to be in some question.

Both Conservation Director Anthony Dean and Gov. Dan Walker, who appointed him, have said that emphasis will be put on opening up public holdings to the people as quickly as possible. The governor referred to halting "bankrolling" of lands in his budget message.

Recent policy had been to acquire property when possible, particularly in rapidly developing areas where delays could mean, at best, much higher prices, at worst, loss of available land at any price.

Currently, according to the education division in the Conservation Department, the department either owns outright or controls better than a quarter million acres of land and water areas. This is broken into 66 state parks, 23 historical memorials, 24 conservation areas and four state forests.

The new directory of recreation areas in Illinois, just published by the department, breaks down each of the sites by facilities available there, and shows none of the 66 state parks as entirely lacking in available activities.

Any lands which might be held "in inventory" are not included in the listing.

Facilities listed by the department which might or might not be available at a given site include camping, electricity, cabins, hotel or lodge, picnicking, refreshments, drinking water, interpretation program or a year-round interpretive program.

Glenn Harper, in the education division, said the new thrust apparently will be to improve the "quality of experience in existing lands."

He added that it will take "a tremendous amount of money to bring Illinois' parks level with national parks, or those in other state with highly developed park systems, like Michigan."

Nameki Wants Pumps On Standby Basis

Nameki Township officials will meet with Madison County Civil Defense officials to learn if portable pumps can be provided on a standby basis to aid Nameki residents in the event of high water resulting from heavy rains, it was reported at a regular meeting of the Town Board Monday night.

The decision to confer with county Civil Defense officials was made after several residents requested the township make such pumps available and board members replied there is a question that the township legally could use funds for such a purpose.

The board instructed its attorney to provide a legal opinion as to whether the township can increase the amount of rental for use of the State Park, polling place in the Community Center. The State Park Improvement Association requested an increase from $20 to $25 for use of the center, plus a $5 fee for janitor service.

Board members also discussed the adoption of an ordinance regulating the size of culverts installed in driveways at township residences.

STATION BURGLARIZED

An undetermined number of tires and other items were stolen from Branding's Service station, 1103 Niedringhaus Ave., police noticed at 2:45 a.m. Wednesday. Officers on patrol found the front door open and a pane of glass in the overhead door broken. The front door had been pried open from the inside, they said. All of the tires in the overhead racks were taken, it was reported.

CHARGED AFTER CRASH

John King, 8 Frontenac Lane, was charged with having no valid drivers license after he attempted to drive his car between the cars of Patricia Berserman, 54 Terry Place, and Jon Pryor, Holiday Mobile Home Park, stopped on Nameki Road at the Johnson Road traffic light. King's auto struck the side of both cars, it was reported. He had a learner's permit, police said.

RESTAURANT BURGLARY

Burglars forced open a door of Ravenelli's Restaurant, 3 American Village Shopping Center, forced open a freezer, threw pies, cakes and food about the restaurant and stole $50 from a cash register Tuesday night. Another cash register was taken into the kitchen and was broken open.

The fair will provide senior citizens an opportunity to learn as food stamps, public aid, social security and legal aid.

Featured will be displays and demonstrations on arts, crafts and hobbies, and entertainment as choral singing, square dance demonstrations, bands, bowling, billiards and ping pong. Snacks and dinners will be available at low prices. Agencies to participate include Department of Public Aid, Legal Services, Mental Health of Madison County, Family Service and Visiting Nurse Association, University of Illinois Extension Services, Madison County EOC, Illinois Heart Association, Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Illinois Bell Telephone Co., Welfare Rights Organization, Illinois State Employment Service, State Office on Aging, Community Service Team, University and College Admissions Office, Arthritis Foundation and Madison County Senior Citizens Council.

MAKING THEIR DEBUTS during the Park District's Winter Carnival Tuesday night, preschoolers displayed a variety of emotions as they sang for the audience. Emotions, from left, were the happy dancing of Lisa Andrews, the enthusiastic clapping of Kristie Mueller, the stage fright of Stephanie Szadi, the informality of Scott Wilson and the happiness of Ann Marie Guzy.

An FM radio converter, four speakers and a tape player were stolen from the auto of Ronald Brawley, 718 Brown St., Venice, in the parking lot of Venice High School, Brawley reported at 12:40 a.m. Wednesday. Entry was gained by forcing the left vent window.

PINS, RADIO TAKEN

Levee District Election Judges May Be Paid Yet

A judicial ruling which may resolve the question of payment of judges of the May 4, 1971, election of East Side Levee & Sanitary District trustees is expected soon, Donald Smith, assistant state's attorney, advised the Madison County Board at its meeting Wednesday morning in the courthouse at Edwardsville.

The controversy over non-payment of the judges at polling places in Madison and St. Clair County sections of the district was revived by Louis Whitell of Nemo Township who called for an opinion from the state attorney general on who is responsible for payment.

The election to fill "vacancies" on the Levee Board created by conviction of its members was called by former Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie and set up by the county clerks of the two counties. The convictions later were overturned.

Smith noted that the last administration of the Madison County Board of Supervisors filed suit against the Levee Board and a motion for a default judgment of more than $25,000 has been filed with the court.

If the Levee Board elects against answering the complaint, the default judgment is expected in about a week, Smith said.

The old East Side Levee Board, which has disclaimed responsibility for the salaries, has appropriated funds for the salaries, and County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer said "I understand the Levee district has the money."

Miss Eulalia Hotz, Madison County clerk and clerk of the County Board, remarked that "I have been in constant contact with the state's attorney's office to get these judges paid." She said the state should pay the bill or order the levee district to pay it.

Marcel Tarris, 56, Stricken Fatally

Marcel (Muncie) Tarris, 56, of Rural Route One, Highland, formerly of Granite City, was pronounced dead at 1 p.m. Tuesday at the YMCA by Ed-ward Werner, Madison County deputy coroner.

Mr. Tarris had participated in the men's Health Club program at the "Y" and collapsed as he entered the steam room, it was reported.

Born in St. Louis, he resided in Granite City almost all his life, moving to Highland in 1968.

Mr. Tarris was employed as a metallurgist for 37 years at Granite City Steel Co. He was a member of the First United Presbyterian Church in Granite City.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Doris Tarris; two daughters, Mrs. Charlotte Vincent of Troy, Ill.; two sons, William Arthur Tarris of Troy and Marcel Paul Tarris of O'Fallon, Ill.; his father, Tony Tarris of Granite City; two brothers, William Tarris of Granite City and Paul Tarris of Fort Worth, Tex.; two sisters, Mrs. Vivian Prince of St. Louis, and nine grandchildren. Funeral arrangements are a given in the obituary column.

New Business Planned At Explosion Scene

The Illinois Department of Transportation has issued a permit to Fred Hartline to cut the curbing and install a driveway in the 800 block of Madison Avenue for a trailer rental business, the Madison City Council was informed Tuesday night.

The block was the scene of an explosion and fire which destroyed several buildings last year.

The council signed a lease with the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission for a day care center in the West Madison Memorial Center. The center has been in operation several months while final terms of the lease were being negotiated.

Alderman John Haynes requested that five houses in the West Madison area be condemned. The city's building inspector is to investigate.

CANDY TAKEN FROM VAN

An undetermined amount of candy and chewing gum were stolen from a Zimring Vending Co. truck in the company yard at Farrish Street and Caine Drive, Madison, it was reported at 6:35 a.m. Wednesday. The thief apparently jumped over a fence, forced the van door partially open and used a piece of broken chrome to rake the candy out of the door. Four boxes of candy were recovered near the fence.

Comment and Analysis

March 15, 1973

State Government Reform Desired by Public But Assembly
Is Still Reluctant to Act; New Indictments Are Expected

Comment by the Press-Record bureau in Springfield—Is an era ending in Illinois politics?

Is there a bright new age of morality in government ahead?

The stunning conviction of former Gov. Otto Kerner, followed by that of colorful Cook County Clerk Edward J. Barrett, once an extremely popular Illinois secretary of state, have stirred fresh hope among idealists that Illinois' long and sorry chapter of corruption in government is about to be closed.

But cynicism about reform in government not only runs deep in this capital city, but is matched with practical indifference to any serious effort to enact legislation to bring it about.

Despite the importance that campaign contributions played in the Kerner and Barrett trials, passage of any meaningful campaign fund disclosure bill during the 1973 legislative session is regarded as highly unlikely.

Most legislators, privately at least, are firmly opposed to such a bill. Gov. Dan Walker, who talks frequently about morality in government and politics, may be unable to obtain new legislation in this field. Candidates to his 1972 campaign are being studied by a Cook County grand jury.

Illinois has a weak conflict of interest law and even that is largely ignored. Few, it would appear, are interested in strengthening it. Recent stock holdings were the dramatic cornerstone of the Kerner trial. Yet, anticipated legislation to specifically prevent such ownership by public officials in the future to strengthen state supervision over the racing industry — can expect a cool assembly reaction.

The lawmakers are less interested in remedial legislation than they are about persistent and freely discussed Statehouse reports that several of the legislature's big names, past and present, are about to make the headlines in new indictments.

Illinois politicians have traditionally been skeptical of any public demand for reform. Scandals like those of the 1950s and 1960s, and now Kerner and Barrett, it is reasoned, stir up the public for awhile, but create no lasting pressure for reform.

Even when some reform legislation is enacted, as was the case two decades ago, it rarely succeeds in ending state scandals. Some reformers seem to inevitably find another way to riches through corruption.

An alderman once became legend by saying that "Chicago ain't ready for reform yet." His comment was made years ago, but it is still timely and applicable to Illinois.

That hoped-for new era is still in the future.

Honor for Venice to Qualify for State's Class A Final Meat; Lone Loss in 30 Games May Improve Team's Chances.

Regardless of whether Venice High School prevails in the tough Class A "elite eight" state basketball final Friday and Saturday in Champaign, the Red Devils' qualification to participate is a high honor for the players, coach, school and community.

And Venice's championship chances are excellent, in view of its record. The 20 victories are eloquent testimony to the team's skill, courage and attitude. The lone loss in the final regular season game could prove valuable in easing the pressure of an unbeaten record prior to the start of the "sudden death" competition.

Tuesday night's 71-66 conquest of Marshall set the stage for a quarter-final game against Bloomington Catholic at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow, and then they would lead to Saturday duels with a field including Ridgeway, St. Anne, Petersburg, Portia, Cerro Gordo, Fulton and Kaneland.

Quad-City fans that wish and heartiest congratulations go with the Venice stalwarts to the statewide tournament.

When you're first on the scene

... You see it as you're coming over the crest of the hill — a car has gone off the road. Looks like it's rolled a couple of times. It must have happened just minutes before. You brake gently and pull off on the shoulder. There's at least one person, maybe an entire family, trapped inside the car. What do you do now?

"Knowing what not to do can be as important as knowing what to do," says Farnham Folson, director of the Maine Extrication and Casualty Handling Team.

Much too often an ambulance crew arrives at the scene of an accident to find the victim already extricated by well-meaning bystanders. Consequently, many times the victim's injuries are compounded. This can result in extra days and even months in a hospital and, in some cases, in the death of the victim.

Folson, whose team teaches ambulance, police and first person aid the current methods of extricating victims from wrecked vehicles, offers these tips for emergency care at an auto accident scene.

1. Protect the scene. Use flares, car blinkers or any other signaling device to make sure another accident does not occur because of the first. 2. Send for help. 3. Administer minimum life-saving care. This might include mouth-to-mouth resuscitation or control bleeding, but should never exceed an individual's training in first aid procedures.

"Reassure the victim," advises Folson. "Tell him life is coming, but don't try to move him unless the car is on fire, which rarely happens. Leave the extrication to professionals."

Allergic to leather? ... A reader reports that every time she wears her leather sandals from India, a rash develops on her feet. Other leather sandals, however, present no problem. "What's wrong?" she asks.

According to TH, the young lady may be allergic to the tanning ingredients used in making the Indian sandals. In Europe and the United States, leather is usually tanned with chromium salts, which are often cured with vegetable tannins, some of which are, similar to poison ivy.

The solution? Stop wearing the imported sandals.

UNCERTAIN DRIVERS
AT HAZARDS OF TRAFFIC

To the Editor:

In addition to the letter, "Increase Control of Traffic to Save Lives," which appeared in The Forum March 8, I would like to add a few statistics.

I have read the Press diligently and found that a good majority of accidents occurring in our town have involved out-of-town motorists.

In Thursday's paper alone there were ten accidents involving out-of-town drivers.

Those I consider to be out-of-town are the motorists who live outside the Tri-City area.

In our area, I counted 12 accidents with local motorists.

To those drivers and all others, please let us be careful and more alert for the lives of the people in our community—our children and ourselves as well.

My family and I become close to being involved in Missouri who are on a sightseeing tour of our town.

They make illegal turns, they go the wrong way on one-way streets and weave terribly in heavy traffic.

Granted I am proud of our town, but there are far too many cars on the road today for sightseers and Sunday drivers.

There have been many complaints about out-of-town drivers. What about the drivers who go too slow? Let's start giving them tickets or tell them to walk.

It's faster for them to walk and 100% safer for us with them off the road.

We all need to pitch in to make driving a safe occupation. Outside of one's place of employment, driving has also become a job.

Where else do we spend most of our time away from home besides our job and driving to and from work?

MOTORIST WHO CARES

OBJECTS TO $19,500
PAY FOR NEXT MAYOR

To the Editor: Think for a moment — How long can a community stand the tide of rising wages and prices? When will it stop? Where is the limit?

Our community has the champion of the people which has been the watchdog of our city residents.

Two weeks ago the mayor granted himself a $6,000 per year raise in pay just by the fact of his position. A little bit of action. The increase amounted to 50% of his present salary. There is little doubt his salary would permit a city employee the same increase.

Working people in industry, business or government, or in the Social Security could not receive such an outrageous increase.

The mayor's pay raise alone represents at least $500 per month.

This increase alone is more than most people who work in all their lives receive in pension benefits. No single person on Social Security reaches anywhere near this figure.

The mayor's take will raise the salary to $19,500. How sweet would it be to work for $19,500 and then have to pay for it?

This will reflect on a larger tax bill for the people next year. You shall see your taxes increase for the next few years.

The mayor's grab and his endorsement of Governor Ogilvie in the last election make it obvious that he is not averse to tax increases, leaving less money in the pockets of the people for their own needs.

Gobbling up public money will only stop when people protest.

The mayor's attitude has been brought about by the presence of regulatory signs along this stretch of Adams stating that there is a two-hour parking limit.

We feel that the effect of these signs should be felt by the employees of the companies on this street and not by the people who park there.

Better yet, the signs should be removed. We would rather compete for parking spaces than pay for them.

We refer to our repeatedly being given parking citations for parking in front of our own homes.

ASK TAXPAYERS OF GRANITE
CITY WHY SHOULD ONE MAN
RECEIVE SO MUCH? IS HE A DEMI-GOD?

How can one man be in his office in Granite City, and at the same time be required to fill a seat in an office in Edwardsville?

The people of Granite City care whether Supervisor Hagnauer has so many positions? I didn't care, because I didn't know. Now, I do know and I do care.

Let's split the "pie" a little, taxpayers. Let's get more representation for our hard-earned dollar.

INTOLERABLE LEVEL OF
VANDALISM AT SCHOOL

To the Editor:

To the parents of children and youth in Granite City — Three years ago, the name of our school has been burglarized and vandalized by a person or persons unknown.

The last incident occurred on March 3.

Here are a few examples of the kinds of things these vandals have done — killed gerbils and fish, written obscene language with spray enamel on walls and blackboards, sprayed blinds, walls and ceilings with spray enamel.

They poured glue on desks, papers and chairs, desecrated flags, scattered dry tempera paint all over rooms, emptied fire extinguishers.

They threw eggs and other foodstuffs in the cafeteria, stole fish tank heaters and pumps, terrariums, art supplies, scientific models, calculators, pens, scissors, magic markers, pens, pencils, Scotch tape and small change.

Once a teacher's pair of glasses was broken.

These vandals have dumped desk drawers and poured glue on and scattered important papers.

Parents, each one of us is probably saying, "My child would not do this."

However, someone's children have done this vandalizing at Nameoki School and most of you know of similar incidents in other schools.

Do you think you please do your utmost to impress upon your children the importance of respect for public property and respect for the rights of others?

Many of the destroyed or stolen items were purchased by taxpayers for the education and enjoyment of the students.

Many items were purchased with your tax dollars.

It is not only many of your tax dollars to pay to have the damage and vandalism repaired.

What if parents in this area please help us wipe out vandalism by reminding their own children to respect property of others?

Do your children have objects or materials with which you are not familiar?

Parents are sometimes surprised when the truth is learned. Please be interested. Please be vigilant.

POWs Apprehensive—Has Easy Life Softened America?

Copley News Service

The poet Robert Burns observed that we could avoid many a blunder and foolish notion if we had the power to see ourselves as others see us.

That experience before a mirror before sending it back and an unexpected way — with the return of war prisoners who are exploring our society.

They are reflecting upon it, after being cut off from it entirely for as long as eight years.

It was no surprise that libelous POWs have loaded their plates with steak and eggs for breakfast or reached for second and third helpings of ice cream for dessert.

After a diet of rice and pork fat, anyone would view an American refrigerator as a treasure chest.

Yet we gather that what the prisoners appreciate most is simply being back home in the broadest sense — being Americans back in their native land.

It is not quite the same. They are encountering the miniskirt, long hair and beards, new gadgets and appliances in our homes, campers, dune buggies and snowmobiles.

We can take pride in the evidence they see of new opportunities opening for minority groups, and in our triumphs to space which many of them missed.

But we may find it awkward to answer their questions regarding the spread of crime and violence in our society, the movies in our theaters and the breakdown of values that we taken for granted when these men left home.

Manners and morals are always changing, but the process is often too subtle to be perceived by those whose lives and attitudes are changing.

There is nothing subtle, however, about the contrast of the country in 1965 and now. The country in 1965 and now is not the same.

When Navy Capt. Jeremiah A. Denton Jr. stepped off a plane in Manila, his "God bless America" brought a lump to the throats of millions of his countrymen watching on television.

Later, back in the swim of American life, recalling the spiritual experience of his long privation, he has seen our luxury, comfort and convenience as a mixed blessing.

"We are becoming quite sophisticated with respect to necessities," he told newsmen. He is "apprehensive" that the absence of challenge and drudgery from the lives of so many Americans may be sapping our strength as a nation.

We can thank Capt. Denton and his fellow prisoners for reminding us that the beat and end-all of America's history of its contribution to civilization, is not to provide "wrap-around" aphonious sound in our automobiles.

A country is not to be measured by its gadgets but by its ideals, principles and goals; by its energy; and by the quality of its family and community life.

Trend to State Legislature Meeting Throughout Year

Copley News Service
Springfield — Spring may be just around the corner, but at the Statehouse the talk is about Christmas.

That's when some think the current session of the Illinois legislature will end.

More than a few legislators are worried about the prospect and believe the situation could even become worse. Predictions are increasingly heard that the legislature will be virtually permanent session, as has happened in Washington.

New Senate President William C. Harris, Pontiac Republican, was asked by reporters as to the prospects of an adjournment by the legislature June 30 deadline. He declined to even venture a guess.

In recent years the June 30 date, once revered by legislators, has diminished in significance. Even when met, it has been followed by recessed or special sessions. The switch to annual from biennial sessions made it even less meaningful.

But the trend so far in 1973 is causing even veteran legislators to wonder. It's been an especially long start and two months have passed with nothing of any consequence accomplished.

True, former Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie left the state government in good shape, especially financially. There has been no need for early emergency legislative action, as was frequently the case in the past.

Even the Chicago Transit Authority crisis turned out to be less urgent than originally anticipated. The legislators have seen no reason to move promptly and have been encouraged in a slow pace by an unprecedented lack of proposals.

Gov. Walker has been letting the lawmakers take the initiative and they have been in no mood to accommodate him. It is their belief that a newly-elected governor should suggest a course for the state to take and then let it be considered by the lawmakers. The governor hopes to play it the other way around.

Meanwhile, the legislative course drags on. Over 745 bills have been introduced, compared to 1,028 at the same date two years ago.

The big falloff was in the House, with only 487 introductions contrasted to 792 during the first two months of the 77th General Assembly.

The Senate was holding about level, actually showing an increase this year with 248 introductions compared to 236 at the same point in 1971. But it is the House that generally serves as the most frequent originator of legislation.

With the exception of the flurry over the CTA, floor activity has been at a minimum in both chambers. Committee activity has scarcely caused a ripple.

Presentation of the Walker budget last week conceivably will speed up matters. But there is a strong feeling that the wait-and-see attitude may continue to dominate both the executive and legislative branches, postponing for months decisions that will eventually have to be made.

Art by Handicapped Children
An exhibit of two and three-dimensional art work by handicapped children is on display through March 31 on the first floor of the University Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The exhibit is being sponsored by the Instructional Materials Center, Office of Instruction, and the departments of art and special education, Northern Illinois University, DeKalb.

Selections for the SIUE exhibit were made from over 1,000 pieces submitted by 135 schools and organizations throughout the state.

Zoning Board to Hold 5 Hearings

On-site public hearings are scheduled for March 27 and 29 by the Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals on five petitions for special use permits and for rezoning.

Hearings on March 27 are scheduled on the petitions of: Floyd E. and Bernice Barron Fague, owners, and Alice DeBenedictis, occupant of a mobile home, to place a mobile home in an R-3 one-family residence district of Chouteau Township on Fleming Avenue at 9:30 a.m.

Morris Investment Co. by R. M. Morris III, president, owner, to rezoned a tract of land from agricultural district to R-3 one-family residence district in the 252 Stratford Lane at 10 a.m.

Willis B. Kitchen Jr., owner and occupant of a mobile home, to place a mobile home in an R-4 single-family residence district in Namekimi Township at Hillsidebrand Ave. at 10:35 a.m.

Bert L. Chapman Jr., owner and occupant of a mobile home, to place a mobile home in an R-4 single-family residence district of Namekimi Township at Fairway Boulevard and Point Avenue in State Park Place at 11 a.m.

Set for 9:30 a.m. March 29 is the petition of Lawrence F. and Joyce M. East, owners, for a special use permit to operate and establish over-night camp grounds in a B-3 highway business district in Chouteau Township just south of Interstate 270 and north of Highway 46, adjacent to the Sun N Fun beach and Thorgate Subdivision.

SIUE to Seek Release Of Treatment Funds

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will seek release of $311,300 appropriated for improvements to the campus sewage treatment plant before June 30, members of the Board of Trustees have been advised.

The funds were appropriated for SIUE to meet standards adopted by the Illinois Pollution Control Board which establish maximum concentrations of various contaminants that can be discharged into waters in the state.

Funds to make the improvements first were requested in the 1971-72 fiscal year capital budget, but were not appropriated at that time. The 1972-73 capital appropriation does include funds for the project.

The Illinois Pollution Control Board regulations require the University to file a project completion schedule with the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency advising of additional controls or treatments required to comply with the standards by Dec. 31, 1973, along with a projected timetable for completion of the improvements.

Last October the executive committee of the trustees approved a contract with Clark Dietz, an Urbana engineering consulting firm, for a study of the sewage treatment plant at Edwardsville. A report from the consultants is expected soon and specific recommendations for improvements to meet the state standards will be made to the trustees.

The plant at Edwardsville is also used as an instructional facility for a Sewage Treatment Plant Operators Institute and a Public Water Supply Operators Institute.

Madison County 2nd in State In February Traffic Deaths

Illinois traffic deaths during February showed a decrease of 11% compared with the same month last year, according to provisional reports of the Illinois Department of Transportation and the Illinois State Police.

February traffic deaths in Illinois totaled 126 and were the result of 107 accidents. During the same period in 1972, 141 traffic fatalities were recorded.

Plans Stiffer Penalties For Driver Violations

Michael J. Howlett, secretary of state, said Tuesday he will establish uniform penalties to keep dangerous drivers off the road by license revocations and suspensions.

Addressing the Springfield Lions Club in the Elks Club there, Howlett said he is aiming specifically at habitual offenders and those convicted of driving under influence of alcohol and drugs.

"More Americans are killed in traffic accidents in the United States in a year than were killed in action in the entire Vietnam war," Howlett said.

In Illinois alone, 2,254 were killed and 163,800 injured last year in auto accidents. Drunk drivers, habitual offenders and drug addicts were involved in the bulk of the fatalities.

"Illinois law authorizes the secretary of state to revoke the licenses of drivers convicted of three moving violations. For three convictions of reckless driving within 12 months or one conviction of driving under influence of alcohol or drugs, revocation is mandatory.

"But when a license is revoked, the secretary has discretion to give restricted permits in case of hardship to let offenders drive back and forth between home and work.

"I intend to establish a uniform system that will include stiffer penalties for second and third offenders.

"If a driver commits three moving violations within a year, the standard practice in the secretary's office has been to suspend the driving privileges for periods varying from two to four months. However, in cases of serious violations the suspension could be up to 12 months.

"Under our new system the first time a driver commits three moving violations in 12 months, we will take away his license for at least six months. The second time, we will suspend it for a year; the third time we will revoke it as we do now.

"Offenders convicted of driving under influence of alcohol or drugs will automatically lose their license for a year the first time. If they commit a second violation I will consider denying reinstatement for two years.

"If, through a more comprehensive program we can reduce accidents by removing dangerous drivers from the roads, we should expect insurance premiums now charged against Illinois drivers. But, more important, we should save lives."

Howlett said he is considering a program of counseling for second-time "moving violation" offenders. Currently, they are sent warning notices that a third offense would cost them their license.

"The warning letter has a place," said Howlett. "But a personal talk with a qualified counselor in the secretary of state office should be a sufficient incentive to correct bad driving habits."

GC Teachers Speak at Carbondale

Mrs. Paul Chilton and Mrs. Vasil Eftimoff of the Granite City school system were speakers at the "Good Teaching Practices Conference" held in the student center at SIU, Carbondale.

The state-wide conference, sponsored by the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, was planned to help both present teachers and students preparing to teach with concrete objectives and aids to improve educational programs in Illinois.

Participants at the two-day meeting stressed a variety of materials and techniques that can be utilized by classroom teachers who have children special needs in their classrooms.

Mrs. Eftimoff and Mrs. Chilton, both learning disabilities explained the itinerant learning disability program used in Granite City and methods of working with the cooperating teachers. In the itinerant program, the special teacher goes to the building where the child is, rather than bussing the child to a central location.

The L. D. child comes to the specialist for 30 minutes of prescriptive teaching each day. Such children have specific, identifiable learning problems which lend themselves to remediation, the women explained. They pointed out this highly individualized teaching program is prescribed for each child in consultation with his doctor, psychologist and school staff. Granite City's learning disability program is rapidly gaining a reputation as one of the best in the state, it was learned. It is conducted under the special education program in Community Unit #9 and is supervised by Pupil Personnel Services.

Lopez-Carlson Wedding At Fort Rucker Chapel

The Fifth Avenue Chapel at Fort Rucker, Ala., was the scene of the afternoon wedding on March 9 of Miss Carolyn M. Carlson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Carlson of Blooming Prairie, Minn., and Chief Warrant Officer/3 Michael S. Lopez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Lopez, 25 Hampton Drive, Glen Carbon, formerly of Venice.

The Rev. Lieutenant Colonel Frances Kovacic and the Rev. Captain Curtis Pedder performed the double ring ceremony at one o'clock on the groom's birthday in the Army Aviation Center chapel.

Prior to the ceremony the bridegroom wearing traditional Army dress blue sang a selection of contemporary songs "We've Only Just Begun," "There's A Place For Us" and "Come Saturday Morning," with guitar accompaniment by Bert Kalish.

During the service, Mr. Kalish provided guitar selections and sang "One Hand, One Heart," "The Wedding Song" and "For All We Know."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore her mother's wedding dress of white silk marquisette over satin.

The long sleeve gown, made with a fitted bodice, was trimmed with a wide silk lace border. The skirt extended into a long train. She wore a finger-tip veil of bridal illusion secured to a headpiece, etched with sequins and seed pearls. Her bouquet was fashioned of two large catalpa orchids, baby breath, greenery and small white flowers.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Allen Stolz of Edwardsville, and a bridesmaid, Miss Judith Anne Lopez of Glen Carbon, sisters of the groom, were gowned in identical dresses of pale orchid over taffeta.

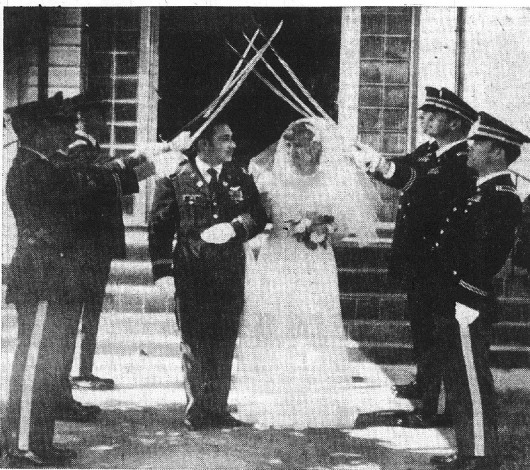

Their floor-length frocks had long sleeves, Empire waists and the skirts were slightly gathered on the sides and in the back. Multi-color shades of cotton Venice lace flowers trimmed the neckline, wrist and high rise waist.

The attendants wore white spun straw picture hats with orchid satin ribbon forming a bow around the crown and long streamers trailing at the back. Both held hand bouquets of iris and greenery surrounded with yellow pom poms.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Carlson selected a light blue floor-length gown of soft crepe with long sleeves. The bodice was accented with a band of white lace. The groom's mother, Mrs. Lopez, was attired in a long orchid gown. Both mothers wore corsages of pink carnations.

The groom chose a flight school classmate, Chief Warrant Officer/3 Richard Wilson, Ozark, Ala., to serve as his best man. Chief Warrant Officer/2 Steve Trammell of Daleville, Ala., was the groomsmen.

Chief Warrant Officers Gerald Gregory, Raymond Kerns, John Keller, Earle Irwin, Mary Reinhold and William Baldwin, completed the corps of ushers and honor guards which formed the ceremonial arch of crossed sabres as the newly married couple departed the chapel.

CROSSED SABERS form a ceremonial arch for Chief Warrant Officer and Mrs. Michael S. Lopez, who exchanged their marriage vows at the Fifth Avenue Chapel at Fort Rucker, Ala. The bride is the former Miss Carolyn M. Carlson, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Carlson of Blooming Prairie, Minn. The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Lopez of Glen Carbon, formerly of Venice.

Guests attended a reception in the Fort Rucker Officers Open Mess following the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Lopez, parents of the groom, entertained the wedding party and their families at a rehearsal dinner March 8 at the Daleville Inn Restaurant, Daleville, Ala.

After a sailing trip on the Gulf of Mexico, the couple will reside at 51 South Allison Drive, Daleville, Ala.

The bride, a graduate of Blooming Prairie (Minn.) High School, is an Air Traffic Control Tower operator at Gaines Army Airfield near Fort Rucker. The groom, a graduate of Venice High School, attended the University of Missouri at Columbia and St. Louis University, the Enterprise (Ala.) State Junior College and Troy (Ala.) State University.

Before entering the Army in 1963, the groom was employed as a staff news photographer and writer at the Granite City Press-Record. He served three tours of duty in Vietnam as a helicopter pilot, and was officer-in-charge and editor of "Hawk" magazine while serving on his last tour.

CWO Lopez resumed the post of managing editor of the U.S. Army Aviation Digest, a monthly Department of the Army professional flying magazine, last week. He held the same position prior to attending the Aviation Warrant Officer Career College.

In recent months, the former Quad-City was on a flying assignment with the Tactical Training Division of the Department of Advanced Flight Training at the U.S. Army Aviation School at Fort Rucker.

Spring Fashions Emphasize Femininity, 'New Serenity'

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Madison County
Home Economic Adviser

"The New Serenity"—a term describing spring fashions—emphasizes femininity in soft, wide-legged pants and dresses of all lengths and styles.

Although pants are here to stay for all occasions, the big news this season is the dress. Bare-backed and haltered, ruffled, soft and long, or sleeveless with a matching or contrasting jacket, almost all spring dresses emphasize femininity.

Pleats, pants with wider legs and tops with biased fullness and comfort and softness to women's fashions. Waistlines of most fashions are natural; however, chemise and tent shapes with no-fit waistlines will also be seen.

The skirt look is repeated in dresses, pants tops and jackets.

Skirt lengths will once again range between three or more inches above the knee and ankle length. But, the length for spring dresses seems to be at the level where the skirt just covers the knee.

The classic silhouette this spring reflects a refined and more sophisticated look. Individuality is added to this look by trims or color accents. However, the layered look continues to be very much a part of the spring fashion scene.

Now that pants are accepted as everyday fashion, designers depend upon tops to add style and individuality.

Tennis, a favorite spring and summer sport, has left its mark on fashions. The "tennis dress" comes in styles for all ages for a variety of sports activities.

Three-piece outfits coordinating skirt, pants and jacket or other top are very popular for spring. Tops come in a variety of styles to suit any figure. Popular styles include the shirt, the smock, the safari jacket and the vest.

The more feminine person can choose puffing, lace and eyelet embroidery to enhance a spring wardrobe.

So whether you like pants or dresses, spring fashions offer a variety of styles that emphasize the soft, feminine silhouette.

CAREFUL PLANNING HELPS
STRETCH A WARDROBE

Before you shop for a new spring outfit, carefully check your wardrobe to see if you can "stretch" the one you already have.

For example, an outfit with more than one piece may be worn in several ways—sometimes you can wear a new jacket with an old dress, a new top with an old skirt and other combinations.

To choose items that can be coordinated with clothes you already have, wear the old, but still good, garment when shopping. If, for example, you have an old pastel skirt tucked away because you thought it was too drab, try sprucing it up with a jacket in pastel plaid which is "in" this season.

The ever-popular separates, when chosen carefully, will permit you to stretch one new outfit into several different outfits.

SPRING FOOTWEAR

Spring footwear emphasizes shoe soles.

Super-sole treatment such as double soles, stacked leather soles, "stitch-downs" and platforms underlay many of the new spring shoes, but a majority of the styles still have a single leather sole, the favorite of many women.

Spectator pumps are classic favorites. And mules—styles which leave the heel exposed—are back.

Sandals come in a wide range of styles, often with platforms. For the woman who likes lower heels, tailored tennies give them a new look.

GOOD LOOKS IN FASHION FOR HEAVY-SET WOMEN

Wonder how to make a "too much" figure look slimmer and taller?

Here are some styles features that will help you:

—Button down front with convertible collar.

—A-line or slim skirts.

—Fashions with design emphasis or trim kept near face and away from waist or hips or other heavy parts of the figure.

—Lines running up-and-down.

—A garment that fits properly. Squeezing into a too-small size will only make you look heavier.

—And above all, avoid "fussy" styles, such as ruffles, pleats, patchwork and other puff-looking details and bulky or clingy fabrics.

Madison County Teacher Institute Set Wednesday

Teacher Institutes will be held Tuesday for teachers of St. Clair County, and on Wednesday for teachers of Madison County, involving a total of 6,000 teachers.

Wilbur R. L. Trime, superintendent of the Madison County Educational Service Region, and Lester J. Ruester, superintendent of the St. Clair County Educational Service Region, worked cooperatively through committees in planning the identical Institutes.

Both institutes will be held on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. each day.

All public schools in Granite City, Madison and Venice, Mo., will be closed to permit teachers to attend the institute Wednesday. St. Mary's Catholic School in Madison, St. Mark's in Venice and St. Joseph's in Granite City also will close so that teachers may attend.

Other Parochial schools, Sacred Heart, St. Elizabeth and St. Margaret Mary will have classes as usual.

Three speakers are scheduled at both institute sessions. At 8:30 a.m. Louis B. Russell will speak on "Love-Concept and Involvement," and at 10:10 a.m. Dr. M. Dale Baughman is to speak on "The Way of the Pro."

Judge Lisa Aversa Richee will speak at 11:45 a.m. on the topic, "Who Catches the Throwaway Children?"

Russell, a teacher of Indianapolis, Ind., is the world's longest-living heart transplant, a fulltime teacher in Indianapolis public schools and recipient of the Outstanding Teacher of the Year Award from the American Industrial Education Association.

Dr. Baughman is a professor of education at Indiana State University at Terre Haute. He is editor of Contemporary Education, author of five books and 55 articles published in 22 different education journals.

Judge Richee is on the bench in the Court of Common Pleas at Philadelphia, Pa., and is author of Throwaway Children. She has served as instructor in psychiatry and law at Yale Law School, served as assistant district attorney for the city of Philadelphia. She has served in a number of educational positions.

Teachers will be divided into three groups by the use of color-coded programs, rotating between main speakers, interest group sessions, and educational exhibits. Therefore, each teacher will have an opportunity to hear a main speaker, attend an interest group session by choice, and visit the educational exhibits.

Group session topics and their consultants are:

1. Education Accountability—Dr. Jacob Bach, SIU, Carbondale, and Norma Judkins, director of In-Service, Alton School District.

2. Action Goals for the Seventies—Richard Haney, assistant superintendent, Office of Supt. of Public Instruction, and Richard Sanders, assistant superintendent, Edwardsville School District.

3. Thinking Positively—Teaching Positively—Helen Rose Schmid, Instructional Materials, Office of Supt. of Public Instruction.

4. Open Space School—Merill Moore, superintendent, Waterloo, William Reeves, principal, Waterloo, and James N. Rogers, principal, O'Fallon.

5. Legal Aspects of Education—Richard G. Baker, attorney, Belleville.

6. Living With a Working Agreement (Contract)—Fred Litton, attorney, Chicago.

7. Identification and Evaluation of Teaching Proficiency—Dr. John Schumel, SIU, Edwardsville; Freeman Greer, administrative assistant, Cahokia, and Raymond T. Jones, administrative assistant, Granite City.

8. Teacher Welfare—Cline Brillhart, Illinois Teacher Retirement System, Springfield.

9. Youth Centered Curriculum—Implications for Career Education—Dr. Robert Chaney, Indiana State University.

10. Academic Freedom—Dr. Eugene A. Etheridge, Indiana State University.

11. Social Problems—Dr. Robert E. Ashpole, SIU, Edwardsville.

12. County Education—Harris C. Malan, SIU, Carbondale.

13. Education: Yesterday-Today—Lester Buford, Educational Consultant, Mount Vernon, John Kirby, Educational Consultant, Springfield.

Teachers of parochial and private schools are especially invited to attend. Other interested persons also are invited.

All public schools will be closed during the day of the County Teacher Institute. The Illinois School Code requires attendance of all public school teachers unless specifically excused.

Their regional superintendent to attend another meeting of equivalent educational value.

Mason Apprenticeship Program Is Announced

Cement Masons Local 90 and the Southern Illinois Builders Association Joint Apprenticeship Program will be the application period for cement mason apprentices.

Applicants will appear for interviews for the three-year apprenticeship program during that month.

Qualified persons may apply with the Cement Masons Local 90 Joint Apprenticeship Committee from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday at 7623 W. Main St., Belleville.

The starting wage is 70% of the journeyman scale which now is $8.35 per hour.

A summary of RIDC's first year of formal operation as a major component of the St. Louis Regional Commerce and Growth Association (RCGA) will be presented at the meeting as part of a review of RIDC's 1972 activities and results. In addition, new RIDC officers will be elected at the annual business meeting which will be held at 11 a.m.

Besides RIDC members, the business community and interested members of the general public may attend the annual meeting and luncheon. Tickets are $5.00 each, and reservations may be made by sending a check for the required number of tickets to: RIDC, 10 Broadway, St. Louis, Mo. 63102.

Among the highlights of RIDC's 1972 activities was its role in assisting seven corporations to establish new facilities, expand or relocate existing plants in the region. The new plants are expected to employ about 248 people and to have a payroll estimated at $1,860,000.

Since 1965, RIDC reports, it has instigated or has been involved significantly in major regional growth by assisting a total of 36 firms that have created approximately 8,715 new jobs and new payroll of $33,827,900.

Stinson Urges Permanent Investment Tax Credit System, More Rapid Depreciation of Steel Production Equipment

George A. Stinson, chairman of National Steel Corp., has told Congress that unless federal tax policies do a better job of promoting capital investment in productive facilities, "we have little chance to satisfy future increased domestic steel requirements from domestic mills." National Steel owns Granite City Steel Co.

Stinson made the statement as chairman of the American Iron and Steel Institute's Public Affairs Committee, in testimony prepared for delivery before the House Ways and Means Committee.

He proposed a long-range tax policy that ultimately would scrap today's complex depreciation concepts, and would substitute for them a flexible "capital cost recovery allowance system."

Such a system, he said, should permit a firm to recover capital investment in productive facilities through a maximum optional allowance as high as 20% annually. This, according to Stinson, would more adequately provide for the rapid pace of technological advances, obsolescence and the effects of inflation.

Noting that such proposed changes in the present tax structure require careful study, Stinson offered suggestions for the shorter term. He urged Congress to accept further acceleration of depreciation allowances as recommended in 1970 by the President's Task Force on Business Taxation, and to reaffirm the investment tax credit system as a permanent and fixed part of the tax laws.

He also suggested that businesses, at their option, be permitted to deduct the cost of pollution control facilities in the year the money is spent, rather than phasing the expense over a five-year period as is now required.

Stinson cited earlier evidence given the Ways and Means Committee that most major industrialized nations permit far more liberal capital recovery than does the United States.

He also cited instances where foreign governments are directly underwriting the costs of modernization and expansion of their steel industries.

He contrasted this with the experience of the domestic steel industry.

According to Stinson: "From 1962 through 1971, the steel industry invested $17 billion in new facilities.

"This sum exceeded the industry's total cash flow—reinvested income plus depreciation—by $2.8 billion, in spite of liberalized depreciation and passage of the Investment Tax Credit during this period."

"As a result, the industry incurred a $2.2 billion in long-term debt."

the massive investment increased production capacity only marginally, since most of it replaced worn-out and obsolete facilities with much more expensive, but more modern and efficient equipment.

—During this same period, the past decade, the steel industry's return on sales fell from the top half of 41 major industries to near the bottom of the list.

This occurred mainly because of erosion of domestic markets by imports (in 1971, imports took nearly 18% of the U.S. market for steel), large jumps in labor costs, and steeply rising costs for raw materials, transportation and capital equipment.

A new study prepared for the Environmental Protection Agency by the management consultant firm of Booz, Allen & Hamilton estimated the industry's capital spending requirements for modernization and pollution control between 1972 and 1976 would total at least $9.25 billion—without any addition in productive capacity.

Since the steel industry estimates pollution spending costs we are to maintain efficient, modern facilities; provide needed jobs; compete effectively in domestic and foreign markets; and improve our balance of trade and payments."

Stinson warned that anyone who feels the U.S. can depend on foreign sources for steel "might be in for a big surprise."

He pointed out that as steel demand picks up in steel countries, offshore companies turn away from foreign orders.

It is essential for the domestic steel industry to have the ability to construct new steel-making capacity, he said, "if we are to maintain efficient, modern facilities; provide needed jobs; compete effectively in domestic and foreign markets; and improve our balance of trade and payments."

School of Medicine Gets Most of SIU Fund Boost

A report on operating funds for 1973-74 as recommended by the Illinois Board of Higher Education and an analysis of operating funds for the fiscal years 1971 through 1974 have been presented to the Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees by James M. Brown, chief of board staff.

Recommendations statewide by the IBHE of $637,230,300 represent an increase of $75,023,300 or 12.9% over the current year, but less than half—$30,262,000, or an increase of 7%—went to "senior" universities. The $637,230,300 includes $10 million intended to commence stabilization of the Universities Retirement Fund.

Overall, the SIU system had a net increase of 6.8% or almost $7 million for 1973-74, but the increase, Brown noted, three-fifths of it—more than $4.3 million—went for health education programs, mostly in the School of Medicine, leaving less than $27 million for all other needs on the Carbondale and Edwardsville campuses.

Although the increases by campuses appear to be 14.2% for SIUC and 8.8% for SIUE, Brown explained that these percentages do not include almost $3 million reallocated from 1972-73 appropriations leaving net increases of 10.5% and 5.1% respectively.

Allocations by campuses were: Carbondale, $30,168,456; Edwardsville, $28,022,570 and System Offices, $1,029,274 (4.1% increase) for a total of $88,220,300.

Brown said that while state appropriations for operations rose from $7.2 million in 1970-71 to $8.2 million for 1972-73, an apparent increase of $1 million, actually funding commitments forced the University to absorb a reduction of $2.1 million in operations over the four-year period.

A breakdown of the amounts absorbed attributes $2.6 million to inflation, $8.8 million to salary increases to which the University was committed and new program commitments of $9.7 million, including health related program developments of $9.9 million.

Essentially, Brown added, the same educational services that were provided in 1970-71 for $7.2 million will be provided in 1973-74 for $67.1 million, although enrollment decreases will partially offset the difference.

Instruction and departmental research is the only major functional category in which appropriations were increased substantially during the 1971-74 period. The amount of increase was $14.7 million or approximately 39%, with more than half of the increase attributed to the School of Medicine. The commitment of resources to instruction and departmental research was made possible largely by major program reductions and eliminations in other functional categories.

Reductions were in organized activities relating to educational departments, more than $1 million; separately budgeted research, one-half million dollars; extension and public services, almost $1 million; libraries, more than $1 million; and operation and maintenance of physical plant, more than $1.1 million.

Items valued at $1,600 were stolen in a burglary at the home of Charles Hester, 4788 Nansook Road, it was reported Monday to the Madison County Sheriff's Department. Included were a portable color television set, an AM/FM stereo-television set, a coin collection, a wristwatch, jewelry and three pairs of boots.

An electric clock valued at $40 was stolen in a burglary of the home of Henry Gray, 315 Terry St., Eagle Park Acres, it was reported at 9 p.m. Monday to the Madison County Sheriff's Department. Entry was gained by prying the lock off the front door.

Auto vandalized

CANDALIA Dalton, 3905 Kirkpatrick Homes, reported at 12:15 a.m. Tuesday that after she saw a man leave in a light-colored auto she found that the hood of her car was up and parts of the engine were thrown about the yard.

State Civil Defense Gets Ready for Tornado Season

Copley News Service

Springfield — Strictly speaking, there is nothing to a tornado. It is an absence of anything, a vacuum.

In the moments it takes a tornado to sweep through an area, it can smash, flatten, rip and tear, leaving a landscape which may never be the same, and snuffing out lives which cannot be replaced.

In Illinois, March marks the beginning of a four-month period when the chances of tornadoes are greatest.

When a tornado strikes, a community may stand alone for minutes or even hours, cut off from advice or help. What happens during that period may mean the difference between life and death for those still trying to realize what has hit them.

To help communities make their plans ahead of time, the state civil defense agency is conducting a series of 12 meetings throughout the state.

According to Val Oshel, Illinois civil defense director, the spring—usually welcomed for warming weather, and inviting landscapes—also is the season of severe storms, high winds, and spring floods, as well as tornadoes.

If any of these hit, Oshel said, "Local governments must have a realistic, workable disaster plan and must know where to go for help, emergency manpower and additional equipment."

In other words, the response to a major emergency often is as much a source of problems as the disaster impact itself. It is time to review plans and responsibilities now—before emergency.

"During the sessions, which go under way in mid-February, representatives of 10 state agencies will outline their responsibilities and capabilities, and representatives of the national weather service and U.S. corps of engineers will give flood threat forecasts."

The sessions will be hosted and coordinated by the state civil defense mutual aid coordinators, and are scheduled for March 5 in the Ottawa city of office building; March 7 at the Rock Island Sheraton Motor Inn; March 14 at the Soldiers and Sailors Home in Quincy; March 15 in the East Alton municipal building; March 20 in the Murphysboro court house; March 21 in the Urbana county building, and March 22 in the Lawrenceville court house.

While Illinois rates eighth nationally in the number of tornadoes since detailed records have been kept, it is first nationally in the number of tornado deaths and second in damage totals.

An average of 10 tornadoes hit the state each year, with the major week for tornado activity falling April 15 to 21. Sixty-five percent of the storms will hit between 2 a.m. and 8 a.m., and 80% of them will be moving northeast, though speeds may range from a state-legal four miles to a roaring 67 miles an hour. They probably will touch down about a 14 mile swath, though some have soared through more than 100 miles.

Every county in Illinois has been touched by at least one tornado at some time, but the biggest majority follow a line stretching northeast from St. Louis to Chicago, across five counties wide.

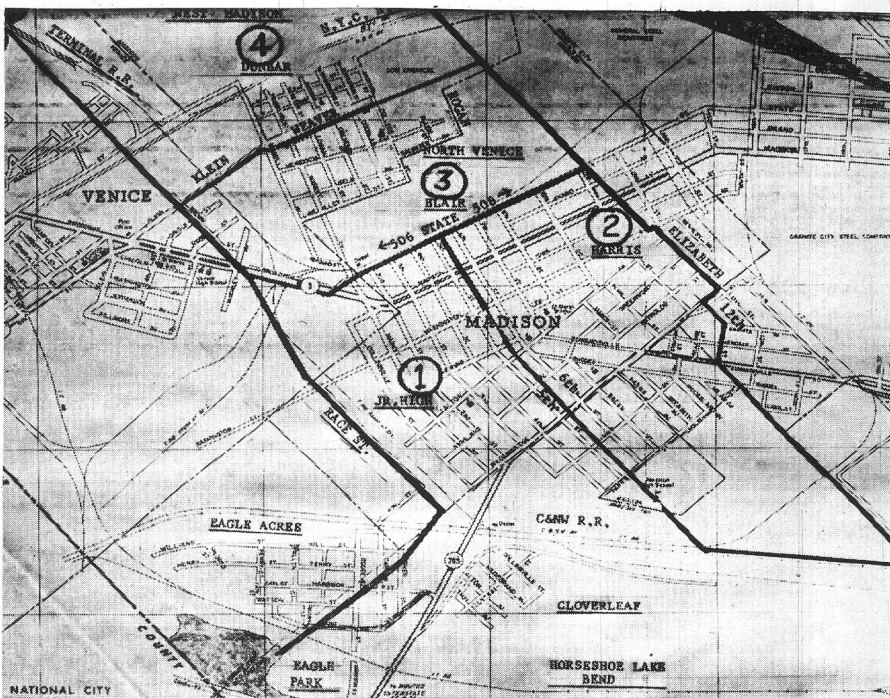

According to the University of Illinois, Illinois owes the dubious distinction of leading the tornado death rolls to a twister which hit March 18, 1925, and in less than four hours cut a path of pain, death and destruction from Elmhurst, Mo., through southern Illinois to Griffin, Ind.

Along the 219 mile path 695 people died, 606 of them in Illinois. There were 2,027 injured, 1,430 of them in Illinois, and Illinois suffered $13 million in property damage. It was the nation's worst tornado.

In one hour the state had so many people die that today, after 40 years, Illinois still ranks as the state which has suffered the most tornado deaths.

Bakalis Terms Funding For Schools Inadequate

State Supt. of Public Instruction Michael J. Bakalis said today he is optimistic that Gov. Dan Walker described education as his administration's top budget concern, but added that the actual level of school funding recommended in the governor's proposed 1973-74 budget is inadequate.

In a statement following Gov. Walker's budget address to the Illinois General Assembly, Bakalis said he "recognizes the need for austerity in government today, but there are limits in the process of cutting budget where dollars saved cost far too much in lost services."

"And in this case," Bakalis said, "the services that would be adversely affected are in the area of education, the governor's priority concern."

Graduation Changed

Assail Scott Role in Teacher Pension Case

The executive director of the Illinois Federation of Teachers, Oscar Weil, says Attorney General William Scott has "played games" with a suit brought against the State of Illinois by the IFT in March 1972 to collect a billion dollars that the state is said to owe to the teachers' retirement system.

"We hear via the news media," Weil said, "that Scott has some kind of plan he intends to offer us in an effort to pay off the state's one-billion dollar debt to the teachers' pension system. From the information we have, the attorney general is engaged in some kind of public relations stunt."

"We are somewhat encouraged that he recognizes the validity of our suit on behalf of teachers."

"But at this time we have not yet had a ruling from the court, primarily because Scott delayed in filing an answer. The state owes the teachers we intend to collect it."

"Scott has been attorney general for over four years and never said anything about how to stop the state from violating our pension law. It took him a year to give any response to our suit, and then only in the news media."

"He knows that this is a matter that must have a ruling by the court," Weil said. "When we get that ruling, we will be in a position to go to the legislature for the full amount the state owes."

Motor Fuel Tax Funds Allocated Area Cities

Illinois municipalities have been allocated $7,854,719.82 as their share of motor fuel tax paid into the state treasury during February, according to the Illinois Department of Transportation.

Motor fuel tax funds are allocated monthly to the various municipalities for their streets and highways. The monies allocated are computed on the basis of population.

Allocations to Quad-City communities include: Granite City, $33,632; Madison, $3,280; and Venice, $3,871.

The Transportation Department also announced allocations of $100,000 in motor fuel tax funds to Madison County, and total allocations of $29,987 to townships and road districts in Madison County.

Hubbard Completes Treatment Plant Study

He received a final grade of A for the course and was presented a certificate of completion by the college.

Kenneth Kerri, Sacramento State's program director, said that Hubbard is one of the first operators in the U.S. to complete the program. The course has been offered by EPA to all persons interested in the operation of waste-water treatment plants. The agency expects more than 2,000 operators throughout the U.S. to complete the program this year.

Licensees Should Report Changes in Addresses

Springfield—Failure to comply with a seemingly insignificant law is causing many Illinois motorists to miss out on a timely public service offered by the Secretary of State.

It may cause them to wind up with an expired license, which could lead to arrest and fine, and it costs the taxpayers time and money.

Michael J. Howlett, Secretary of State, stressed the importance of complying with the law that states change of name or address must be reported within 10 days.

Howlett explained that drivers whose licenses are about to expire are issued renewal notices from his office.

Many do not receive their notices because they have moved and have neglected to file their change of address with the Secretary of State.

Without this reminder from Springfield, some unintentionally allow their licenses to expire.

Howlett pointed out that driving with an expired license is not a petty offense. If the period of expiration is more than six months, minimum fine is $50.

A driver's license renewal notice is mailed approximately 45 days before the expiration of his license.

If the driver is required to be re-examined, Howlett said, early receipt of his renewal notice will allow sufficient time to study the Rules of the Road.

In February, 17,158 renewal notices were returned by the Post Office Department as undeliverable.

The number of returns has increased steadily since 1969, which results both in wasted postage and time for Secretary of State employees to file returns.

In 1969, renewal notices were returned at an average rate of 3.485 per month. This average increased to well over 9,000 per month in 1972.

Last December the situation deteriorated to such an extent that manpower and resources had to be diverted within the Secretary's office to design a new system for filing returns.

Yet, returns continue to rise. January's total was 12,119, which gives 1973 a monthly average of 14,638 for the first two months.

Steel Industry Has Big Anti-Pollution Investment

Washington — A survey released this week shows that the domestic steel industry placed in operation a record $201.8 million worth of new air and water quality control equipment during 1972.

According to the report, issued by the American Iron and Steel Institute, and covering firms producing about 98% of the nation's steel, the value of the environmental protection facilities installed by the industry last year was almost 25% more than the $161.6 million worth of such units put on stream in 1971.

The Institute also reported that steelmakers in this country have budgeted an additional $336 million for pollution control facilities scheduled to go into operation in 1973 and later years. This would raise the industry's total environmental quality commitment since the end of 1963 to $1.3 billion.

Industry experts estimate the total cost of maintaining and operating anti-pollution equipment at 12% of the original construction cost. Thus, to keep the $1.4 billion worth of such equipment installed since 1960 functioning, steelmakers must spend over $168 million annually.

Of the $201.8 million worth of new pollution abatement units put into operation last year, $144.8 million worth were air quality control facilities, and $57 million were water purification installations.

However, over the years, spending has been split rather evenly between air and water pollution control. Since 1965, steelmakers have invested $489.9 million in air quality facilities, and $446.2 million in water clean-up equipment.

The $336 million earmarked for future pollution control installations includes $201.4 million for air purification and $134.6 million for water quality control.

ELECTRONIC NOTEBOOKS PRODUCED AT SIUE. Bill Harvey, left, a psychologist at Washington University in St. Louis, assists two representatives of the San Francisco-based National Center for Experiments in Television in the production of an electronic notebook in the Communications Building studios at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Marvin Duckler, center, associate director of NCET, and Warner Jepson, right, an artist-composer with NCET, are two members of a team which has produced seven electronic notebooks in the SIUE studios. An eight production is scheduled this week. The notebooks are videotapes which contain research data and theoretical and technical information for distribution worldwide to universities to further the use of television as an "artistic and educational tool." Duckler said the SIUE studios were selected for the production of the notebooks because "the facilities and people, especially the people, are outstanding—they're innovative and interested in doing new things in creative television."

Patricia Morris Selected As Miss Red Bird Finalist

Future Miss Red Bird of the St. Louis Baseball Cardinals may be Miss Patricia Morris, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Morris, 2416 Berton St.

She is one of the six finalists chosen out of a field of 300 girls. She was selected as a finalist on Thursday when she went through extensive interviews with judges at Busch Stadium.

The finalists will have dinner at the Stadium Club today, when members of the Cardinal team will be there to make the final selection based on personality, beauty and poise.

Miss Morris is a senior at Granite City High School and will graduate in June. She plans to enter the Belleville Area College in the fall for an applied science degree. She hopes to become a stewardess for Eastern Airlines.

A senior finalist for Miss Teenage America in 1971, she has recently modeled at Stouffer's Riverfront Inn and the Chase Park Plaza Hotel.

Many College Students Use Logic of Children

College students generally use "child's" logic in reaching conclusions, according to research being conducted by Thomas C. O'Brien, associate professor of elementary education at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Even students enrolled in college-level logic courses depend primarily on the same reasoning processes used by youngsters in lower grade levels, the study reveals.

However, O'Brien's research acknowledges that college students use a wide variety of methods in interpreting class material, and he indicates that the relationship of the methods is being studied further.

O'Brien presented summaries of his research in appearance at a pre-session of the American Educational Research Association in New Orleans. He presented two papers, "Logical Thinking in College Students" and "Child's Logic Revisited."

O'Brien, who has conducted extensive research on the thought processes at all age levels, contrasts "child" and "mathematical" logic. He explains that "child" logic is applicable in situations where facts are clear and the conclusions are certain. "Mathematical" logic becomes necessary when the circumstances are unclear, and a final conclusion cannot be reached unless additional information is provided.

An example of "child" logic was cited as follows: "If the car is shiny, it is fast. The car is shiny. Is the car fast?" The logical conclusion is that the car is fast.

On the other hand, "mathematical" logic would come into play if the circumstances were as follows:

"If the car is shiny, it is fast. The car is not shiny. Is the car fast?" Logically, not enough clues are provided, and no conclusive answer can be given.

On the basis of the testing of college students in logic courses, O'Brien concluded, "Widespread and consistent use of 'child's' logic persists in college students. The consistent use of 'math' logic is employed by very few students, even those who have had a college-level course in logic."

Paterson Installed as Roca Club President

Tom Paterson was installed as president of the Roca Young Men's Club for the summer term in ceremonies Sunday at the Nameoki Recreation Center.

Other officers installed were Tom Vrenick, vice-president; Alan Miller, secretary; Bill Barbieri, treasurer; and Greg Gauen and Frank Stroehmer, directors. The retiring board was honored.

The new board is planning a work project for this month and an Easter egg hunt in April.

Bret Champion, retiring president, discussed the past term during which the club boosted its membership to 29, one short of the maximum.

Barbieri was awarded the Founders plaque as the most representative member. He also won the best member award. He has been on the winter and summer boards.

SIU Board Action Needed For Student Fee Changes

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees has adopted a resolution systematizing fee enactment policies in an effort to clarify assessment procedures and responsibilities on the Edwardsville and Carbondale campuses of the university system.

The resolution makes trustee action necessary to establish or change any fees assessed as a condition of enrollment in either university.

Campus presidents are authorized to establish or change specific student fees within the category of instructional fees, regulatory fees and charges for non-instructional services and privileges.

Authority over charges in funded debt enterprises is determined by bond resolutions entered into by the trustees.

Fees assessed as a condition of enrollment which are to be set or changed by the board are defined as tuition, and mandatory fees assessed each academic quarter for a specific purpose.

The charter of the Board of Trustees notes these specifically as "fees for student activities; fees for student facilities such as student union buildings or field houses or stadia or other recreational facilities; student welfare fees; (and) ... similar fees for supplies and materials."

All fees, whether adopted specifically by the Board of Trustees or set by the presidents, are established under the authority of the trustees.

The resolution includes a statement of general policies which specifies that each president shall file an annual report of all fees and charges established by his authority and in effect during the preceding fiscal year.

All student fees are to be published periodically in official university publications and notice of changes in fee structures is to be published prior to the implementation of the changes.

The actions were proposed to clarify the chain of authority for a constantly growing number of fees and charges which have become increasingly difficult to follow, the trustees were advised. The board's action will systematize fees policies on both campuses for the first time.

4-H Members Attend Electrical Workshop

The annual electrical workshop for Madison County 4-H club members was held at the Farm Bureau auditorium in Edwardsville. Hosts were Illinois Power Co. and the Southwestern Electrical Cooperative.

REMODELING OF OLDER HOMES is illustrated by these photographs taken at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Padgett at 2219 Delmar Ave. Such undertakings are being encouraged by the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society.

The nursery (top left) has been decorated in red, white and blue striped wallcovering on three walls and a complementary floral wallpaper on the remaining wall, accented with a bright red carpeting.

Antique toys and furniture are added to the overall decor.

Bright sunny yellow shag carpeting was the starting point in the master bedroom (top center), combined with a type of old fashioned wallpaper displaying small yellow flowers that create a stripe effect. The lower half of each wall is painted a corresponding yellow color.

Harvest gold will be the dominant color in the living room (top right) in the paint on the lower half of the walls. There will be wall covering in a tiny gold and white design on the upper part, separated with a chair rail. This corner of the room provides a partial view of the finished idea. The entrance hall is to the left.

The exterior is shown at lower left. At one time the house was used for two families; hence, there is a porch on each side. Eventually, the porch on the left will be enclosed and the front entrance will remain on the right. The outside is painted a bright barn red, trimmed in brilliant white. The home later will have landscaping to enhance the overall appearance.

At the lower right is a bedroom for little girls. The room is "an inspiration in secondhand finds." The iron "nurs' bedsteads" also have a canopy to be added. Delicate floral wallpaper in blue and white and white ruffled curtains are compatible with modern blue-green tweed carpeting.

Springfield—Persons who contributed to Comptroller George Lindberg's campaign are not in agreement on whether he should have counted some of the contributions as personal income.

Some say it is his money to do as he pleases; others say the practice is unethical and they would never have donated money had they known he was going to use it on anything other than campaign.

Of the $138,000 contributed to his campaign last year, Lindberg counted $20,000 as personal income. He said he would have earned at least that much in his law practice had he not taken time out to campaign.

There is nothing illegal about this, it's just a questionable practice—especially for a politician who dubs himself "Mr. Ethics."

The former three-term legislator picked up the ethics label for sponsoring the state's ethics legislation and for being the first—and thus far, only—statewide candidate to disclose his sources of campaign money.

However, the law and voluntary disclosure are not an end in themselves—they are a means to an end. Their purpose is to help the public identify potential conflicts of interest.

As we contacted a few of Lindberg's contributors, nearly every one was surprised to learn that he used $20,000 for his own personal benefit. Here are some negative comments:

"I don't want to be ripped off in any way. I thought it was for the campaign."

"I'll have some reservations about giving next time. I'll check with the candidate and see if he plans to do this. It's out of my control, though. It's like paying taxes, you don't always approve of the way they spend the money."

"I don't like it. He was making money as a lawyer anyway. That's not like somebody who had to resign their job."

"It should be used for campaign purposes only. I'm 100% against it."

"I feel that's not quite right. He was misleading. Especially now with the (Kerner) conviction, I'd like to believe in people."

Others were not opposed to the practice:

"I don't mind at all. I'm sure he put it to good use."

"It probably doesn't make that much difference to me. I contributed to both candidates (Dean Barringer was his Democratic opponent). It's just the cost of doing business here. You're noticable by your absence if you don't give."

"I see nothing wrong with it. I know him personally; he's a high caliber man. I'll leave the use of the money to his own good judgment."

"I don't mind at all. I offered to drive the van for him during the campaign. He has a tremendous obligation. I approve any portion of my contribution going to his personal income."

The samplings are far from scientific. If there was any pattern at all to the reactions, it was that the larger contributors, mostly businessmen, didn't care what he did with the money and the smaller contributors—except one woman who now works for him—thought it was questionable.

We don't know how many politicians treat part of their campaign funds as salary, because they don't publicize the information. The ones we asked, including Gov. Dan Walker, said they do not.

Most have a debt to pay off at the end of the campaign. Some statehouse veterans said they doubt if anyone else had recently done it because of the indictment brought against former Gov. William Stratton.

Psychology Clinic Set For Courts in County

A part-time consultation service in clinical psychology is being provided to the Madison County judicial system by Lawrence E. Taliana, professor of psychology at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

A "court clinic" is being established for the study of persons awaiting sentence, and Taliana will be working the equivalent of about one day a week for the judicial system. According to the arrangement which was approved last week by county officials, the SIUE professor will work a maximum of 400 hours per year for the county, and he will be paid on an hourly basis, only to the extent that he works. A specific annual salary has not been set.

Criminal Court Judge John Gitchcock said that Taliana will look into a felon's previous delinquency or criminal record, his social background, his capabilities, his mental, emotional and physical health, and the rehabilitative resources or programs adaptable to his needs.

According to the judge, the "court clinic" is the first of its kind outside Cook County. A felon ordinarily will be committed to the clinic for 60 days, while the study by the psychologist is in progress. After the study has been completed, a report will be submitted to the court and used by the judge to determine whether the felon should be sent to a correctional or mental facility.

Taliana said the position is strictly a consulting service, and he will continue full time as a professor or psychology at SIUE. He said he agreed to provide the service after trying unsuccessfully to help the county find a qualified psychologist for the position.

Taliana expressed the hope that cooperative experiences can be developed to enhance programs related to this field at the University.

The appointment also was approved by Ralph Yem, Wood River, chairman of the Madison County Community Mental Health Board (708) and the personnel committee of the board.

Thur., Mar. 15, 1973 Page 41

For the past 10 years, Taliana has been a consultant to the Illinois superintendent of public instruction on psychological testing, problems, counseling, evaluation and research. He also has been a consultant to the Social Security Division. His past experience includes two years as a clinical psychologist for the Alton clinic of the Madison County Mental Health program.

He has been a visiting professor in the state university system of Oregon, and he served a year's internship in medical psychology at the University of Oregon Medical School.

Taliana has contributed to two books on research and counseling, and he has written numerous research papers on the subject of psychology. He also has given lectures and appeared on television panel programs.

At SIUE, he teaches psychopathology, personality dynamics and psychological assessment. He holds bachelor's and master's degrees from SIUE at Carbondale, and he received his doctor of philosophy degree from Purdue University.

THE CMC POLICY

"MAKING THE RIGHT PRODUCT SELECTION IS IMPORTANT, BUT YOU SHOULD ALSO CONSIDER WHAT HAPPENS AFTER YOUR PURCHASE"

At CMC Stereo Centers, we offer performance, reliability, and value when you purchase a stereo component system. Here's why...

30-DAY PRICE GUARANTEE

If you should find identical merchandise that you can purchase at a lower price than we sold it to you, CMC will cheerfully refund the difference to you in cash within 30 days from date of purchase. All merchandise must be available from another established local area merchant, be the same make and model, and be new — not a floor sample. You are to make a $5.00 deposit, bring the sales slip and receipt to us, showing the lower price, and we will refund the difference to you plus your $5.00 deposit.

5-YEAR WARRANTY

Every component system we sell has a 5 year written parts guarantee and a minimum of 2 year labor guarantee on major components including speakers and electronics. Your investment is safe when you shop at CMC.

ONE-YEAR SPEAKER EXCHANGE

If, for any reason within one year after the purchase of a component system from CMC, you would rather have a different speaker system, you will receive FULL CREDIT of your purchase price less any cabinet or speaker damage, toward the list price of any equivalently or higher-priced speaker.

90-DAY EXCHANGE PRIVILEGE

Any other component in your system may be exchanged within 90 days of purchase for an equivalently or higher-priced unit. You only pay the difference, if any, and return the item in its original carton in like-new condition with your receipt of purchase.

TRADE-IN POLICY

CMC will take your old equipment purchased at CMC regardless of age or condition, and make you the fairest offer possible toward any new equipment we sell.
